Storm May Leave Mainland Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Cleo smashed into the rich and thickly populated southeast coast of Florida today, caused heavy damage and plowed a devastating path northward.

The storm, a small but vicious killer, churned across Miami with surprising fury, lashing the city with winds up to 115 miles an hour, torrential rain and damaging tides.

Unofficial estimates placed damage in the millions from the first hurricane to hit Miami in four years, and one of the worst since 1926.

Looters raided damaged shops and stores throughout the city. Numerous injuries — most from flying glass — were reported, but there were no known fatalities. Hospital held staffs overtime to treat the injured.

Power Failures
Miami and Miami Beach, a city of plush homes and swanky resort hotels just across storm-tossed Biscayne Bay, were plunged into darkness by power failures.

Minutes after the hurricane struck, the only electric lights in the normally brilliantly lit cities shone dimly from hospitals and other buildings with auxiliary power.

The eye of the storm, which has left a rising toll of dead in the Caribbean, moved directly over Miami, after indications it would pass out at sea.

Moves Up Coast
Then it swirled slowly on to batter Fort Lauderdale and Palm Beach, famed play place of the wealthy, some 65 miles to the north.

The Weather Bureau said it was expected to continue its northward course at 11 miles an hour through the day, then veer away from the mainland on a northeasterly track tonight.

Hurricane warnings were hoisted all the way to Cape Kennedy, site of most U.S. space launchings, 190 miles north of Miami. Gale warnings extended another 50 miles north to Daytona Beach, and on huge Lake Okechobee in south central Florida.

Sharp Tide Rise
The Weather Bureau warned tides may reach five to seven feet above normal.

Windows in hundreds of Miami homes and stores were smashed. Fallen power lines started dozens of fires. An 85-foot luxury yacht broke loose from its mooring and drifted helplessly without a crew in crashing waves. Trees were toppled, roofs ripped off.

Miami enjoyed a long period of calm while the eye was over the city and police Lt. James Ford said dozens of looters raided the damaged shops and stores, carrying off liquor, clothing, food and other items.

"We've got more than 150 officers out there and we can't catch 'em," he said. "They're in and out before we can get them."

Behind the hurricane lay a swath of death and destruction in the Caribbean, with 14 dead in Guadeloupe, at least 60 in Haiti and the toll expected to rise.

Johnson, Humphrey After Decisive Win

Fireworks, Huge Party for 4,000 Are Arranged for Johnson's 56th Birthday

By JACK BELL and Harry Kelly

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — Democrats close their convention — and get a quick start on their campaign — with a massive pep rally tonight honoring their new first team — Lyndon B. Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

In speeches accepting Wednesday night's nominations, the President and his running mate will outline for the party legions their plans for what Johnson called an "overwhelming victory" against Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Head for Work Session
Then almost as soon as the curtain drops on their bedlam by the Boardwalk, the President and Humphrey plan to head for the LBJ Ranch in Texas to plot their autumn strategy.

"There in the shade of the live oaks on the banks of the Pedernales, we will talk over our duty for the next few weeks," said Johnson.

But before packing up, delegates and party officials will salute the President's 56th birthday with a fireworks spectacular and a huge party for some 4,000 guests.

The First Lady started the party round this morning with a post-nomination champagne breakfast for the press, where she table-hopped and talked of hitting the campaign trail herself for the Johnson-Humphrey ticket.

Before the hoopla, before the shouts and the fireworks, the Democrats will pause to honor the memory of three of their fallen heroes, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy.

To Greet Delegates
Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, the President's widow, was to arrive today. She does not intend to attend the convention program but will greet delegates at a reception.

Until Wednesday night, the convention's course was dully predictable, then Johnson gave it a dramatic turn by breaking a string of precedents.

The President had held on to his secret that Humphrey was his choice for the vice presidential nomination until he was ready to board a plane to Atlantic City. Humphrey, who had flown to Washington at the President's command, was at his side.

How World Learned
Taking the senator by the arm, Johnson walked over to newsmen standing behind a barrier and said: "Meet the next vice president."

The world thus learned of the selection, about three hours before many delegates to this convention knew that it had been made. No modern president had ever kept counsel about a running mate so long.

Johnson, Humphrey and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., who also had been summoned to the white house from Atlantic City, then boarded a plane. Johnson watched on television while

Gov. John F. Connally of Texas placed his name in nomination.

Remains Mystery
The reason for Dodd's quick trip remained a mystery. The Connecticut senator said he had told the president to "include me out" of consideration for the vice presidential nomination.

Speculation among high party officials was that the Connecticut senator had been offered appointment as Attorney General when Robert F. Kennedy steps out of that office to make the race for the Senate in New York. This might bring National Chairman John M. Bailey into the picture as a possible successor if Dodd accepted the Cabinet post.

Johnson hadn't been scheduled to visit the convention until today. But as soon as his nomination was acclaimed with a tumultuous, banner waving, flag-flying demonstration, he strode to the platform.

Happy About Honor
Flanked by his wife and two daughters, he said he was happy about the honor done him. He said he would be back to tell the delegates who bulged the hall to overflowing, about his plans for "an overwhelming victory for our party and our nation" in the November balloting.

He complimented the delegates on a platform "on which I am proud to stand" and on their settlement of delegate seating squabbles in the Mississippi and Alabama delegations.

Then the President laid low another precedent by launching into a stem-winding nominating speech for Humphrey. He said he had spent "long and prayerful hours" and had consulted with party leaders from every section of the country before deciding on "the man best qualified to assume the office of the President of the United States should that day come."

Then, after holding back the name for tantalizing seconds, he came out with the name: "Senator Hubert H. Humphrey."

Has Time in Spotlight
Something akin to genuine pandemonium broke out as the convention learned officially for the first time the answer to the big question which had been in every delegate's mind for days.

Humphrey, accompanied by his family, marched up to the podium and Johnson, stepping aside, let his running mate have his time in the spotlights.

After the convention had adjourned for the night Johnson flew back to Washington, obviously cherishing the belief that he had the strongest possible ticket and an uneasy unified party behind him.

Politically the choice of Humphrey offered the party liberals a glittering prize to offset all of the efforts the President had made to keep Southern conservatives in camp and to prevent a walkout by Southern dissidents.

Johnson's name was formally placed in nomination by Govs. Connally and Edmund G. Brown of California.

Katrine Man Is Fourth Named as Special Officer

Appointment of a fourth man to the local police department on a provisional basis was announced today.

He is Robert Joseph Kasphak, 44, Corwin Place, Lake Katrine, and is due to go on duty before the end of the month.

A Brooklyn native, he had lived in the Kingston area in recent years. He was graduated from Kingston High School in 1960, and in July of that year entered the U.S. Air Force in which he served until July this year. He was a missile technician.

Others Named
The others named by the police board Aug. 20 were: Douglas Arthur Longto, of 411 Hasbrouck Avenue; Patrick Joslyn Colbert, of 58 St. James Street; and Donald Louis Playford, of 80 Prospect Street.

Appointment of Longto, Colbert and Kasphak becomes effective Aug. 29, and that of Playford on Sept. 12.

Mayor John J. Schwenk, in announcing the police board's decision to appoint patrolmen on a provisional basis, said all have agreed to take the civil service examinations Aug. 29, they have passed acceptable physical examinations, and were otherwise screened before appointment.

The appointments were made to overcome the time lag involved in the processing of the results of civil service examinations.

UAW Plans Chrysler Strike Soon

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union has singled out Chrysler Corp. as its No. 1 strike target in efforts to secure new contracts for the nation's half-million auto plant workers.

UAW President Walter Reuther told newsmen Wednesday night that the walkout at Chrysler would begin at 10 a.m. Sept. 9 if no settlement is forthcoming by that time.

Reuther said Chrysler, General Motors and Ford — the auto industry's Big Three — all had adopted a "narrow, selfish attitude" in negotiations and are denying workers their fair share of record-breaking profits.

The union's contracts with all three firms expire Monday, but Reuther said the strike deadline was set beyond Labor Day to allow several extra days at the bargaining table in efforts to avoid a walkout.

May Embarrass LBJ
President Johnson is expected to open his campaign in Detroit's Cadillac Square on Labor Day.

Observers have pointed out that with a auto strike in progress, the President might have found such an appearance before a labor rally to be embarrassing.

Reuther visited President Johnson in the White House Wednesday, but he denied that the President's Labor Day plans had any influence on the decision to set Sept. 9 — two days after the holiday — as the strike date.

Moral Duty
Pointing out that Chrysler is the nation's seventh largest corporation, Reuther said the firm was selected because it had what he termed "a economic and moral obligation" to repay the UAW for 1961 contract concessions.

At that time, he contended, Chrysler was in deep financial trouble and there was a question of whether the company was going to survive.

Chrysler is now the second most profitable company in the auto industry, Reuther said.

Pros, Cons Aired at Zone Parley on Signs, Industry

Public hearing held by the Common Council's Laws and Rules Committee Wednesday night in the City Hall on two proposed zoning ordinance changes drew argument for and against both.

One seeks a change that would permit erection of signs and billboards of 325 square feet, instead of the 50 square feet now permitted, and the others seeks a general manufacturing classification, instead of residential for Fifth Ward land owned by The Hutton Company, North Street brick manufacturer.

Spokesmen for the Modjeska Sign Studio Inc., of Thomas Street, argued in favor of the proposed change affecting signs and were supported by businessmen of the central Broadway area, who more directly discussed proposed location of a property on the former Gildersleeve property on Broadway by the Imperial 400 Motel Company, which will require a large sign.

Elmore C. Yallum, former Kingston Planning Board chairman, and now a member of the Ulster County Planning Board, entered the only opposition claiming that approval of the change, would return the city to the "dark ages of zoning."

Augustus P. Modjeska, president of the Modjeska Sign Studio, held that present regulations affecting signs denied "freedom of expression" to the sign business, while it is still maintained and permitted in the press and radio.

Some 25 Fifth Ward residents opposed the change affecting the Hutton Company property.

Barry Makes Asia A Campaign Issue

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater sought privacy at sea today after thrusting the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam squarely into his campaign against President Johnson.

While the Democratic National Convention nominated Johnson and chose Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota to run with the President, the Republican nominee for the White House cruised the waters off Southern California.

Lolling against the stern rail of a borrowed 83-foot yacht Wednesday, Goldwater declared he thinks the Johnson administration is trying to negotiate a settlement of the Southeast Asian fighting before Election Day; said that timing would be wrong and added he fears such an agreement would be a giveaway to the Communists.

Stand on China
—Said some form of negotiations with Red China "might be profitable"—when pro-Western forces can deal from a position of strength in Southeast Asia. —Labeled the U.S.-backed war against Communists in South Viet Nam an issue of major concern to the voters in the presidential race.

Goldwater, striking a theme he raised in Cleveland, Ohio, two days ago, said he expects to hear "most any day" of a negotiated settlement in Viet Nam.

Awaits Negotiation
The senator told reporters at the floating news conference in Catalina Island's Avalon harbor his "political bones" tell him word of negotiations can be expected before Election Day. "I hope it's not a giveaway to the Communists," he said. "I suspect that's what it will be if we have one."

Goldwater said this is not the time for peace talks. "Before any negotiations are begun that involve us directly or indirectly, we must improve our military position," he said. "I don't think the military situation is such that we have much to bargain with."

Cites Pattern
Goldwater said he read a newspaper report forecasting negotiations for peace in South Viet Nam. He mentioned a Central Intelligence Agency report, saying it also talked of negotiations. He said that "is the typical pattern" used to prepare the public for an announcement that negotiations have been held.

For the past several weeks, since the local firm of Augustus R. Schrowang Associates, was engaged in June to prepare a master plan for the college, Breger has been working with the local architects on development of a master plan.

He has served in the capacity of Chairman of the Department of Architectural Design at Pratt Institute and as professor of architecture since 1947. He also is a professional lecturer in the School of Public Health and Administrative Medicine to Columbia University. Prior to 1945, Mr. Breger was assistant to Walter Gropius in his private architectural practice. He received a Bachelor of Architecture degree from Harvard Graduate School of Design in 1954 and Master of Arts in Philosophy from New York University in 1954.

Currently Mr. Breger is designing architect for the Rockland Medical Facility and Washington Heights Chronic Care Facility in New York. Other architectural credits include Florence Nightingale Home, New York City, 1963; Murphy Medical Center, Kaesaw, Ind., 1961; Miller Center for Nursing Care, White Plains, 1962; Capri Beach Club, Atlantic Beach, L. Prior to 1945, Mr. Breger was assistant to Walter Gropius in his private architectural practice. He received a Bachelor of Architecture degree from Harvard Graduate School of Design in 1954 and Master of Arts in Philosophy from New York University in 1954.

Currently Mr. Breger is designing architect for the Rockland Medical Facility and Washington Heights Chronic Care Facility in New York. Other architectural credits include Florence Nightingale Home, New York City, 1963; Murphy Medical Center, Kaesaw, Ind., 1961; Miller Center for Nursing Care, White Plains, 1962; Capri Beach Club, Atlantic Beach, L. I., 1952; Junior High School, Far Rockaway, 1950; New York City Chronic Care Facilities, 1948; and Urban Redevelopment Study for Glen Cove, L. I., 1956.

His architectural awards include first prize, Carson, Pirie, Scott Development Plan for the Chicago Loop in 1954; first, second and third prizes U.S.A. Tomorrow Award for the redesigning of the Chelsea District of Boston in 1956; third prize for Jefferson National Memorial competition of the St. Louis waterfront in 1948; third prize for New York State Urban Redevelopment Program for Housing and Site Development in 1950; first prize House and Garden in 1948; Good Design Award, Museum of Modern Art in 1952; Langford Warren prize in 1943; alternate for Prix de Rome in 1946.

In announcing the retaining of Breger as an associate for development of the master plan at the Ulster County Community College site in Stone Ridge, Schrowang stated that considerable work has already been done on the development of the site plan.

Why We Say--

NONSENSE: Uncultured people may be called barbarians. But the name came from the Greeks, who were scornful of languages they didn't understand. Just as we sometimes refer to unknown sounds as "blah blah," they called the foreign words "bar bar" and the people uttering the sounds "barbarians."

Kennedy Returns to Shake More Hands

By JAMES DEVLIN
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy returns to this seashore site of the Democratic National Convention today for some political handshaking.

Harrimans Giving 3-Part Reception For Mrs. Kennedy

BY FRANCES LEWINE
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the assassinated president, comes here today for a reception in her honor to which 5,600 Democratic convention delegates have been invited.

The affair is so big, it had to be divided into three shifts over a five-hour period from 12:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m.

The reception, given by W. Averell Harriman and Mrs. Harriman, longtime friends of the Kennedys, precedes a convention session at which a memorial service will be held for the late president.

Mrs. Kennedy will not be there, however. Spokesmen for the former first lady said the memorial, at which a film will highlight Kennedy's administration, would be too much of an emotional ordeal for her.

Mrs. Kennedy planned to fly in just for the day and to return later to Newport, R. I., where she has been spending part of the summer at her mother's farm estate.

Many of the Kennedy clan and members of Kennedy's New Frontier family have had a hand in the plans for the afternoon reception in her honor.

stroll the boardwalk and mingle with the New York delegates and tourists in the lobby of the Ritz Carlton Hotel.

Also on his schedule were an afternoon reception for his sister-in-law, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, and a convention tribute tonight to her husband, the late president.

Harriman Hosts
Hosts at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Averell Harriman, undersecretary of state and former governor of New York, was one of Kennedy's original backers for the Senate nomination.

Kennedy had been here Tuesday for a reception given in his honor by New York's Mayor Robert F. Wagner, shortly after the attorney general announced his candidacy for the Senate.

His return served as a reminder to New Yorkers here, who joined in the convention pandemonium Wednesday night for President Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the vice presidential nominee, that their own state convention is only a few days away—next Tuesday in New York City.

Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Amsterdam, who has vowed to fight Kennedy for the nomination, criticized him Wednesday as an outsider who has given the Republicans the issue they needed.

Basically Wrong: Stratton
Stratton, referring to Kennedy's up-until-now voting residence in Massachusetts, issued a statement saying:

"To me it is simply wrong—basically wrong—for an outsider to run for the Senate from New York."

"It threatens a nationwide political revolution which could transform any one of our 50 states overnight into an English-style rotten borough."

"It has given New York Republicans the one issue they desperately needed to unite their badly divided party."

Stratton said nomination of Kennedy would show "total bankruptcy of New York's Democratic leadership—unable and unwilling to develop young new leaders from within our ranks."

He also said "It foreshadows a total transformation in party of leaders already moving in, whose ties with New York are even more remote than those of their own new candidate."

Stratton declined to identify the "new cadre of leaders already moving in."

Kennedy, backed by Mayor Wagner, the state's most powerful Democratic figure, and the leaders of some of the state's most populous counties, is heavily favored to win the nomination.

If he does, he is slated to open his campaign Sept. 5 at the State Exposition in Syracuse.

Two New CORE Officers

GEORGE ARMSTRONG

WILLIAM BOSTIC JONES

By unanimous vote, Ulster County Chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality elected George Armstrong, 112 Broadway, its new vice chairman, and William Bostic Jones of New Salem, corresponding secretary, it was announced today by Miss Jennifer Miller, CORE chairman.

Both men have been working actively on the CORE Mississippi Freedom Project benefit to be held at the Woodstock Playhouse on September 18, as well as the local chapter's drive to collect clothes and books for Mississippi.

Armstrong is the 25-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hobart Armstrong, who came to the Kingston area from South Carolina 37 years ago. They have eight children. George's older brother, Nathan, owner of a local restaurant, was the first president of Kingston's NAACP, and is today active on the relocation committee of the Urban Renewal Board.

A gifted musician, Armstrong attended Kingston High School and Ithaca University for two years until he went into service in 1958.

Armstrong made this statement: "It is for the young people of America primarily that CORE has most significance in the fields of education and employment. As vice chairman, in charge of membership, I will make it my job to bring the young people of Ulster County into this movement where they can work effectively to permanently improve their opportunities to contribute to society."

Jones was born in 1933 and lived in Pittsburgh, Pa., until he went to Howard University, Washington, D. C., where he received a BS in electrical engineering. In 1959, he joined IBM in Kingston, where as an associate engineer, he programs scientific computers.

Since 1960, he has been enrolled in the IBM-Syracuse University Graduate Center. He is married to the former Alverta Palmer, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Oscar Palmer, of Kingston's New Central Baptist Church. They have three children.

As chairman of the Sponsors Committee for the September benefit, Jones made this statement after his election: "No one with a conscience can afford to

WORLD'S BEST HOPE

In 1950 Congress created the National Science Foundation to spur the progress of science in this country by supporting research, offering fellowships, improving teaching and school facilities and in general aiding scholars.

Largely because of the NSF, high school teaching of science has been revolutionized and U.S. scientific resources are at high strength.

Much has happened in that decade and a half. Always vital to the nation's defense, with the appearance of Russia's Sputnik I in our skies in 1957, science became to the popular mind, the magic means whereby the United States would regain the prestige so abruptly snatched from under our noses.

Most of the billions since then have gone to applied technology — rocketry — which may be science to the layman, but is not what the scientist means by the word.

But millions of dollars have gone to basic research, to modernize equipment and facilities, to strengthen the broad base of American science.

In the rush to support science, something called the humanities—the study of history, art, literature, philosophy—got swept aside. A few voices, among them those of scientists, protested against this.

In 1963, a Commission on the Humanities was formed by the American Council of Learned Societies, the Council of Graduate Scholars in the United States and the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa.

Some weeks ago it issued a 222-page report urging the establishment of a National Humanities Foundation, to do for the humanities what the National Science Foundation has done for science with its infusion of money, ideas and talent.

"Even the most gifted individual," stated the commission, "whether poet, or physicist, will not realize his full potential or make his fullest contribution to his times unless his imagination has been kindled by the aspirations and accomplishments of those who have gone before him . . .

"All men require that a vision be held before them, an ideal toward which they may strive. This vision includes such enduring values as justice, freedom, virtue, beauty and truth.

"Democracy demands wisdom of the average man . . . To know the best that has been taught and said in former times can make us wiser than we otherwise might be, and in this respect the humanities are not merely ours, but the world's best hope."

REALITY KNOCKS AT THE DOOR

ATLANTIC CITY — If there is any common denominator of apprehension in this generally smug convention, it is that Lyndon Johnson may have formed the habit of trying to slide over things too long.

Nobody, when the proceedings started, considered there were any real storm clouds on the horizon. The arguments over seating the legally elected Mississippi delegation or "disloyal" members of the Alabama delegation would be settled in due course by Hubert Humphrey in his new role of pacifier. The image of Lyndon Johnson, as the man who "met force with force" in the Gulf of Tonkin, would stand up through Senator Pastore's keynote speech and beyond. Then, following the choice of Vice President, the showing of the John F. Kennedy film, and the coronation of LBJ in his own right, the happy delegates could stage a boardwalk bash (the fashionable world for wild celebration) in honor of the President's August 27 birthday and go home. It would be all the way with LBJ for the U.S.A. (hey, hey).

Unhappily, the real world at this convention has intruded. It intruded — just a bit — in the embattled shapes of Birmingham's Bull Connor and the ADA's Joseph Rauh Jr., who, recalling the antagonistic cooperation between the rhinoceros and the tick bird, brought the reality of the South into the convention hall ante-rooms. The LBJ theory was that an all-white Mississippi delegation could be seated this time, with a promise that in 1968 things would be different. The South, according to the LBJ thesis, is evolving; the Bull Connor type has all but disappeared from every Southern state except Mississippi and Alabama, and in four more years it will not be coming to national conventions from anywhere. So why have a fuss now just to satisfy Joseph Rauh Jr. and his little band of wilful men?

Well, the reality of colliding forces in Mississippi forced a compromise. It was a teeny-weeny one, to be sure, but it was just enough to remind voters that Democrats do have problems in the South that may spill over from Alabama and Mississippi to take votes away from LBJ.

The picture of the President who had the Commies fighting a losing battle all over the world after four Kennedy-Johnson years was suavely presented on the opening night of the convention by keynote Pastore and by a judiciously edited film that distributed praise just about equally between JFK and LBJ.

But came the dawn and the delegates woke up to learn that the name of General Khanh in South Vietnam was tottering. Buddhists and students had forced the strong man to rip up a new constitutional provision that had given him dictatorial power to cope with national emergencies. And in the Congo, Tshombe had been compelled to hire mercenaries — some of them from apartheid South Africa, no less — to keep Communist-backed tribesmen from overrunning the eastern provinces of a country that has always been held together by bailing wire.

The labor bosses at their headquarters in the Hotel Traymore have been working quietly to help build up the LBJ image for the battle against Barry Goldwater. But reality intruded in the shape of news from Detroit of a threatened automobile strike to match the strike that has already closed down the Detroit newspapers. And sound trucks went up and down Atlantic City streets demanding Civil Rights for Teamsters whose leader, Jimmy Hoffa, was pictured as being cruelly persecuted by Bobby Kennedy. Though it would hardly bother Atlantic City, where the diet in the fancier restaurants runs to flounder stuffed with crabmeat, middle western delegates talked of the news of the livestock delivery strike in Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, and Illinois to bother them.

Finally, an astounding "Reader's Digest" account of the Bay of Pigs by a Cuban underground leader, Dr. Mario Lazo, hit the stands at Atlantic City at almost the very moment chosen by the platform committee for the release of its document bearing on the JFK-LBJ record in foreign affairs. Delegates who had been told about a glowing pen portrait in the "Digest" of Connecticut's Senator Tom Dodd, who was still hoping for the Vice Presidential lightning to strike, could hardly have missed Dr. Lazo's allegations that it was Kennedy and Dean Rusk, not the men of the CIA or the Pentagon, who had watered down the whole invasion plan at a last fatal moment.

So reality has stirred at least some apprehension at a generally roseate convention. LBJ, had better allow for it, lest he pull the sort of rock that ruined an overconfident Tom Dewey in 1948. (Copyright, 1964, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Alcohol Has Special Risks for Teen-agers
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Alcoholic beverages are a part of the life of about 67 per cent of all persons over 15 in this country. Because of this statistic, Frances Todd believes that teen-agers should be taught something about drinking. To this end she has written "Teaching About Alcohol" (McGraw-Hill paperback). Parents of teen-agers would do well to read this book.

A careful distinction must be drawn among drinking, drunkenness and alcoholism. Just as a single drink does not make a person a little bit drunk, as some extremists have maintained, neither does getting tipsy at times necessarily indicate alcoholism.

By the time your youngster reaches his teens he will probably have tasted alcohol in some form and will probably have made up his mind whether or not he will drink. It is important that he realize that both a decision to drink or not to drink is socially acceptable.

Most important of all, he should understand the special risks of drinking before he reaches full maturity. The pressures to drink are probably a little greater for the teen-age boy than for the teen-age girl.

What, then, are the hazards associated with teen-age drinking? Since a person's tolerance for alcohol is in large part determined by his body weight, and since some teen-agers have not yet attained their full adult stature, it follows that smaller amounts of alcohol will be needed to depress their higher brain centers.

Furthermore, your adolescent child is more apt to experience psychological intoxication. All emotional experiences in teen-agers are magnified beyond the comprehension of their parents. Thus, it will take very little alcohol to plunge a teenager into an emotional crisis which may result in an unfortunate fight or an even more unfortunate love affair.

An adolescent — nor anybody else — does not need alcohol to help him meet his personal problems. He must learn to face them squarely without the crutch, and the poor crutch at best, of inebriation.

But there are physiological as well as psychological reasons why a little alcohol may affect a teen-ager adversely. Until a person's stomach has gotten used to alcohol, nausea and vomiting may occur. This is the opposite of the desired effect, and may ruin what started out to be a gay party.

The greatest risk is the effect of alcohol on the inexperienced drinker who is also an inexperienced driver. Alcohol has made too many teen-agers irresponsible behind the wheel.

It is best not to introduce your adolescent son or daughter to alcohol but, if you must do so, do it very gradually. Start with beer or wine and make it a truly educational experience, not a vicious habit.

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
ATLANTIC CITY Aug. 25 (NEA)—The man on President Johnson's top staff calls it the "shock factor."

As in the 1964 Democratic convention, so in the campaign to come, it will be woven like a stout thread into the utterances of candidates high and low.

What is the shock factor? The suggestion, not subtly hinted but boldly hammered, that the President's GOP rival, Sen. Barry Goldwater, is not to be trusted at the controls of this nation's mightiest nuclear force.

Rhode Island's Sen. John Pastore, in his keynote speech, provided a perfect tipoff of what is to come.

In 16 crucial lines, punched out with all his oratorical energy, Pastore — without ever mentioning Goldwater's name — drew attention to recurring charges that the senator is unfit to sit near the A-bomb button.

IT IS LEARNED THAT the Rhode Islander put that material into his speech when it was in its roughest beginnings. He believed it was a most important element, and the President knew well in advance this shock factor would be stressed.

High-placed Democrats clearly have concluded that Goldwater is glaringly vulnerable in this field. It seems to them an issue begging for the fullest possible exploitation in the campaign ahead.

This reporter's recent talks with Republican leaders in more than 30 states confirm that this is indeed the gaping hole in Goldwater's armor. In instance after instance they say: "Goldwater has problems in our state." Pressed to define them, they invariably single out voter concern over Goldwater's "nuclear responsibility" as the No. 1 difficulty.

IT ISN'T PLAIN JUST how often and how fully the President himself will jump into this issue. Some aides, and a good share of the key party figures tapped at the Democratic convention, think he should leap in only when the provocation—or the opportunity—seems greatest.

The prevailing thought today in party circles is that the "irresponsibility" thread should be laced into thousands of fall campaign speeches below the presidential level.

But Johnson loves the smell of political combat, and he may find himself descending from his lofty presidential perch more often than is presently planned — especially if he is sharply goaded by Goldwater and his running mate, that scrappy bantam rooster, Rep. William Miller of New York.

In the closing weeks of his Springfield nomination campaign, Goldwater and his managers sought to minimize the unrelenting problem by reducing his off-cuff public responses almost to zero. Democrats anticipate he may continue on this tack, forcing them to chop at older portions of his verbal record.

Yet one Plains State senator sees a different sort of trouble for Goldwater if he plays it this way all through the fall.

"He can't switch from red meat to milk toast without arousing the concern of his own partisans," this man says.

A considerable number of leading Democrats believe Goldwater simply will not be able to maintain a total embargo on impromptu appearances. If and when he makes them, they foresee manifold opportunities for fresh ammunition.

Says Sen. Claiborne Pell, Pastore's junior Rhode Island colleague: "Goldwater is like quicksilver — probably the best means of attacking him is just to point out the record, to tell where he stands from one day to another."

Nobody who heard Pastore's old-fashioned stemwinder at Atlantic City can imagine any Democrat is going to be bashful about doing that every working day between now and Nov. 3.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Received a note from Mrs. Alice (Dermody) Burke of St. James Street, Kingston, about the item which she writes appeared in Aug. 6, 1964. She writes in part: "I was coming home from church with my Dad, and we saw that car go through" or into the Cornell building on Jan. 6, 1935. "My Dad and I lived at that time on West Strand," she writes, "I notice how many readers are interested in this accident and will give more details again in a column. I know it happened Sunday morning at 10:20 a.m."

A newspaper item given me by a neighbor from the New York Times of Sunday, July 26, 1964 page XX 9 in which there was a historic restoration project in Portsmouth, N. H. It seems first the authority planned to buy up buildings, standard, sub-standard and historical, destroy them, and then sell the land to a private contractor, as it is being done in cities all over the nation. The program ran into trouble in 1937, when the Federal authorities refused to insure it. They felt that "rents would be too high by New Hampshire standards."

This illustrated article by Michael Strauss further relates that a few historically minded citizens suggested that the area be turned into a historic site, in which the city could lose a sub-standard area but also gain a tourist attraction, and urban renewal history was made, as the Portsmouth Housing Authority agreed to go along with the restoration plan. A corporation was formed on Nov. 12, 1958. Its mission was "to acquire, receive, hold, care for, invest in, operate, administer and otherwise deal in such real and personal property as may illustrate and be a part of Portsmouth's early history." They have for instance the John Paul Jones House of 1758, with its dignified gambrel roof, and many others, like we have in Kingston.

I received two very interesting picture postal cards from Fred J. Johnston of 63 Main Street, Kingston, who has great interest and knowledge of American history and antiques. Only a short time ago he was able to buy the Vanderlyn Sketch book of original drawings, some 160 large pencil, charcoal and other working drawings done for the famous "Landing of Columbus" shown around the nation on Columbus Day in newspapers and magazines. The original life size painting of some 11 figures in oils is in the Rotunda, D.C. I hope some large illustrated magazine, like "Antiques" would cover this painting and perhaps also reproduce some of the rare original (some signed Jno Vanderlyn) sketches owned by Mr. Johnston for their October issue. Little is known about Vanderlyn by the average reader and written, even when the "Landing of Columbus" a most popular picture is shown yearly.

One of the postal cards Mr. Johnston so kindly sent me is of "The Stockade, planned by Governor Peter Stuyvesant, and built by the Dutch settlers of Kingston, N. Y. to protect themselves against the Indians." The card was published (in England) to advertise the 250th anniversary to be held May 30, 31 and June 1, 1908, for the Kingston celebration. The other card is one of the finest reproductions I have seen of the Mary Powell

Religion, CR Ingredients Of Johnson's Selection

By DAVID LAWRENCE

ATLANTIC CITY—The dilemma that confronted President Johnson in selecting a running mate was not as mysterious as it was made out to be. The reasons for the deferment of any announcement had nothing to do with the idea of allowing sentiment to be worked up throughout the country for a particular candidate or for anything that might be described as a popular mandate.

The President really had a simple question before him: Did he have to put a Roman Catholic on the ticket? If he did, then Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the majority leader of the Senate, was the natural and inevitable choice. To have picked Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, also a Catholic, would have been to disregard Mr. Mansfield's position as the leader of the Democratic party in the Senate.

The moment the Republican National Convention picked Rep. William E. Miller, a Catholic, to be the Republican Vice-Presidential nominee, a problem was posed for President Johnson. He promptly eliminated Attorney Robert Kennedy, a Catholic, by ruling out all members of his Cabinet as Vice-Presidential possibilities. So it became a question of analyzing viewpoints of local political leaders and determining from private surveys whether the omission of a Catholic from the ticket would be injurious to Mr. Johnson's political strength, or whether the issue was really no longer of any political consequence.

There was also another question that had to be studied — would the selection of Sen. Humphrey, a Protestant, gain some anti-Catholic votes that might come from Republicans who didn't approve of the selection of a Catholic on their own ticket?

Sen. Humphrey has been in the forefront of the civil rights controversy, so information was sought as to whether this would cause a loss of Democrats in the South as well as in the northern states where the existence of a "white backlash" vote has lately been a matter of political concern. Mr. Johnson has ways of reaching into every state to gather information on political attitudes. His aids were able to get a general idea of how the country would react to the selection of Mr. Humphrey.

The Minnesota Senator, moreover, is widely known as a liberal and his selection, the President was advised, would please the liberal elements of the party, including the followers of Adlai Stevenson. Mr. Johnson has lately been trying to give to the business world an image of his Administration as nonradical and, on the whole, rather conservative. Would a liberal on the ticket, therefore, balance things up a bit? So the plus points in favor of picking Sen. Humphrey gradually grew as political professionals were canvassed.

The individuals most frequently mentioned — Sens. Mansfield, Humphrey and McCarthy — did not authorize any booms in their behalf or any organized effort. It was recognized on all sides, of course, that the final choice was to be made by President Johnson. The convention delegates, as a matter of fact, were to be told what to do, and it was generally predicted that even a roll call wouldn't be needed to make the nomination official, as a voice vote would be sufficient.

Mr. Johnson's decision was the result of a measurement of the benefits that could accrue to the ticket as against the disadvantages in certain areas of the country where the electoral vote might be close.

The President knew that he needed a good campaigner and an experienced politician—someone with a knowledge of political conditions throughout the country. It was recalled that Sen. Humphrey was a candidate for the Presidential nomination four years ago and made a good showing at the national convention, as he had participated in several primaries, including Wisconsin and West Virginia. That's why most of the political leaders of the various delegations at the convention this week anticipated the selection of Hubert Humphrey, though there were some who kept saying the result would be a surprise.

The surprise they had in mind was, of course, the possibility that Sen. Mansfield might be chosen, though this eventually was brushed aside repeatedly by pointing to the Montana Senator's own public statements that he really didn't want to run.

The discussion had gone on for many days and hence the revelation planned for last night's session of the convention was surrounded in advance by an air of mystery and uncertainty. All this could have been, of course, mostly a build-up for the announcement to a nationwide TV audience. This was one way to get publicity and attention in an otherwise dull convention.

WORLD'S BEST HOPE

In 1950 Congress created the National Science Foundation to spur the progress of science in this country by supporting research, offering fellowships, improving teaching and school facilities and in general aiding scholars.

Largely because of the NSF, high school teaching of science has been revolutionized and U.S. scientific resources are at high strength.

Much has happened in that decade and a half. Always vital to the nation's defense, with the appearance of Russia's Sputnik I in our skies in 1957, science became to the popular mind, the magic means whereby the United States would regain the prestige so abruptly snatched from under our noses.

Most of the billions since then have gone to applied technology—rocketry—which may be science to the layman, but is not what the scientist means by the word.

But millions of dollars have gone to basic research, to modernize equipment and facilities, to strengthen the broad base of American science.

In the rush to support science, something called the humanities—the study of history, art, literature, philosophy—got swept aside. A few voices, among them those of scientists, protested against this.

In 1963, a Commission on the Humanities was formed by the American Council of Learned Societies, the Council of Graduate Scholars in the United States and the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa.

Some weeks ago it issued a 222-page report urging the establishment of a National Humanities Foundation, to do for the humanities what the National Science Foundation has done for science with its infusion of money, ideas and talent.

"Even the most gifted individual," stated the commission, "whether poet, or physicist, will not realize his full potential or make his fullest contribution to his times unless his imagination has been kindled by the aspirations and accomplishments of those who have gone before him . . .

"All men require that a vision be held before them, an ideal toward which they may strive. This vision includes such enduring values as justice, freedom, virtue, beauty and truth.

"Democracy demands wisdom of the average man . . . To know the best that has been taught and said in former times can make us wiser than we otherwise might be, and in this respect the humanities are not merely ours, but the world's best hope."

Rhode Island's Sen. John Pastore, in his keynote speech, provided a perfect tipoff of what is to come.

In 16 crucial lines, punched out with all his oratorical energy, Pastore — without ever mentioning Goldwater's name — drew attention to recurring charges that the senator is unfit to sit near the A-bomb button.

IT IS LEARNED THAT the Rhode Islander put that material into his speech when it was in its roughest beginnings. He believed it was a most important element. And the President knew well in advance this shock factor would be stressed.

High-placed Democrats clearly have concluded that Goldwater is glaringly vulnerable in this field. It seems to them an issue begging for the fullest possible exploitation in the campaign ahead.

This reporter's recent talks with Republican leaders in more than 30 states confirm that this is indeed the gaping hole in Goldwater's armor. In instances, at least, they say: "Goldwater has problems in our state." Pressed to define them, they invariably single out voter concern over Goldwater's "nuclear responsibility" as the No. 1 difficulty.

IT ISN'T PLAIN JUST how often and how fully the President himself will jump into this issue. Some aides, and a good share of the key party figures tapped at the Democratic convention, think he should leap in only when the provocation—or the opportunity—seems greatest.

The prevailing thought today in party circles is that the "irresponsibility" thread should be laced into thousands of fall campaign speeches below the presidential level.

But Johnson loves the smell of political combat, and he may find himself descending from his lofty presidential perch more often than is presently planned — especially if he is sharply goaded by Goldwater and his running mate, that scrappy bantam rooster, Rep. William Miller of New York.

In the closing weeks of his springtime nomination campaign, Goldwater and his managers sought to minimize the unreliability problem by reducing his off-cuff public responses almost to zero. Democrats anticipate he may continue on this tack, forcing them to chop at older portions of his verbal record.

Yet one Plains State senator sees a different sort of trouble for Goldwater if he plays it this way all through the fall.

"He can't switch from red meat to milk toast without arousing the concern of his own partisans," this man says.

A considerable number of leading Democrats believe Goldwater simply will not be able to maintain a total embargo on impromptu appearances. If and when he makes them, they foresee manifold opportunities for fresh ammunition.

Says Sen. Claiborne Pell, Pastore's junior Rhode Island colleague: "Goldwater is like quicksilver . . . probably the best means of attacking him is just to point out the record, to tell where he stands from one day to another."

Nobody who heard Pastore's old-fashioned stemwinder at Atlantic City can imagine any Democrat is going to be bashful about doing that every working day between now and Nov. 3.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

Received a note from Mrs. Alice (Dermody) Burke of St. James Street, Kingston about the item which she writes appeared on Aug. 6, 1964. She writes in part: "I was coming home from church with my Dad, and we saw that car go through" or into the Cornell building on Jan. 6, 1895 . . . My Dad and I were just across the street. I lived at that time on West Strand," she writes. I notice how many readers are interested in this accident and will give more details again in a column. I know it happened Sunday morning at 10:20 a. m.

A newspaper item given me by a neighbor from the New York Times of Sunday, July 26, 1964, page XX 9 in which there was a historic restoration project in Portsmouth, N. H. It seems first the authority planned to buy up buildings, standard, substandard and historical, destroy them, and then sell the land to a private contractor, as it is being done in cities all over the nation. The program ran into trouble in 1957, when the Federal authorities refused to insure it. They felt that "rents would be too high by New Hampshire standards."

This illustrated article by Michael Strauss further relates that a few historically minded citizens suggested that the area be turned into a historic site, in which fashion the city would lose a sub-standard area but also gain a tourist attraction, and urban renewal history was made, as the Portsmouth Housing Authority agreed to go along with the restoration plan. A corporation was formed on Nov. 12, 1958. Its mission was "to acquire, receive, hold, care for, invest in, operate, administer and otherwise deal in such real and personal property as may illustrate and be a part of Portsmouth's early history." They have for instance the John Paul Jones House of 1758, with its dignified gambrel roof, and many others, like we have in Kingston.

I received two very interesting picture postal cards from Fred J. Johnston of 63 Main Street, Kingston, who has great interest and knowledge of American history and antiques. Only a short time ago he was able to buy the Vanderlyn Sketch book of original drawings, some 160 large pencil, charcoal and other working drawings done for the famous "Landing of Columbus" shown across the nation on Columbus Day in newspapers and magazines. The original life size painting of some 11 figures in oils is in the Rotunda, at the Capitol, in Washington, D.C. I hope some large illustrated magazine, like "Antiques" would cover this painting and perhaps also reproduce some of the rare original (some signed) Jno Vanderlyn sketches owned by Mr. Johnston for their October issue. Little is known about Vanderlyn by the average reader and written, even when the "Landing of Columbus" a most popular picture is shown yearly.

One of the postal cards Mr. Johnston so kindly sent me is of "The Stockade, planned by Governor Peter Stuyvesant, and built by the Dutch settlers of Kingston, N. Y. to protect themselves against the Indians." The card was published (in England) to advertise the 250th anniversary to be held May 30, 31 and June 1, 1908, for the Kingston celebration. The other card is one of the finest reproductions I have seen of the Mary Powell

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

ATLANTIC CITY—The dilemma that confronted President Johnson in selecting a running mate was not as mysterious as it was made out to be. The reasons for the deferment of any announcement had nothing to do with the idea of allowing sentiment to be worked up throughout the country for a particular candidate or for anything that might be described as a popular mandate.

The President really had a simple question before him: Did he have to put a Roman Catholic on the ticket? If he did, then Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the majority leader of the Senate, was the natural and inevitable choice. To have picked Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota, also a Catholic, would have been to disregard Mr. Mansfield's position as the leader of the Democratic party in the Senate.

The moment the Republican National Convention picked Rep. William E. Miller, a Catholic, to be the Republican Vice-Presidential nominee, a problem was posed for President Johnson. He promptly eliminated Attorney Robert Kennedy, a Catholic, by ruling out all members of his Cabinet as Vice-Presidential possibilities. So it became a question of analyzing viewpoints of local political leaders and determining from private surveys whether the omission of a Catholic from the ticket would be injurious to Mr. Johnson's political strength, or whether the issue was really no longer of any political consequence.

There was also another question that had to be studied — would the selection of Sen. Humphrey, a Protestant, gain some anti-Catholic votes that might come from Republicans who didn't approve of the selection of a Catholic on their own ticket?

Sen. Humphrey has been in the forefront of the civil rights controversy, so information was sought as to whether this would cause a loss of Democrats in the South as well as in the northern states where the existence of a

"white backlash" vote has lately been a matter of political concern. Mr. Johnson has ways of reaching into every state to gather information on political attitudes. His aids were able to get a general idea of how the country would react to the selection of Mr. Humphrey.

The Minnesota Senator, moreover, is widely known as a liberal and his selection, the President was advised, would please the liberal elements of the party, including the followers of Adlai Stevenson. Mr. Johnson has lately been trying to give to the business world an image of his Administration as nonradical and, on the whole, rather conservative. Would a liberal on the ticket, therefore, balance things up a bit? So the plus points in favor of picking Sen. Humphrey gradually grew as political professionals canvassed.

The individuals most frequently mentioned — Sens. Mansfield, Humphrey and McCarthy — did not authorize any booms in their behalf or any organized effort. It was recognized on all sides, of course, that the final choice was to be made by President Johnson. The convention delegates, as a matter of fact, were to be told what to do, and it was generally predicted that even a roll call wouldn't be needed to make the nomination official, as a voice vote would be sufficient.

Mr. Johnson's decision was the result of a measurement of the benefits that could accrue to the ticket — as against the disadvantages in certain areas of the country where the electoral vote might be close.

The President knew that he needed a good campaigner and an experienced politician—someone with a knowledge of political conditions throughout the country. It was recalled that Sen. Humphrey was a candidate for the Presidential nomination four years ago and made a good showing at the national convention, as he had participated in several primaries, including Wisconsin and West Virginia. That's why most of the political leaders of the various delegations at the convention this week anticipated the selection of Hubert Humphrey, though there were some who kept saying the result would be a surprise.

The surprise they had in mind was, of course, the possibility that Sen. Mansfield might be chosen, though this eventuality was brushed aside repeatedly by pointing to the Montana Senator's own public statements that he really didn't want to run.

The discussion had gone on for many days and hence the revelation planned for last night's session of the convention was surrounded in advance by an air of mystery and uncertainty. All this could have been, of course, mostly a build-up for the announcement to a nationwide TV audience. This was one way to get publicity and attention in an otherwise dull convention.

The underground railroad was a term used popularly in the northern states during the Civil War to designate the organized system by which slaves were helped to freedom. The Quakers of Pennsylvania initiated the system. Estimates of the number of slaves helped to freedom via the underground railroad range from 40,000 to 100,000.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "What do I do? I do nothing," says Percy Kilbride. "I'm more or less a — well, you might call me a bum."

That's not likely. Kilbride is a spry, crickety, tweed-suited gentleman of 77 years. He is the only Boulevard regular who is recognized by the present generation of movie fans.

"Hey — you're Pa Kettle!" tourists shout at the trim-figured, hawk-nosed man. He gives them a half smile and a cock of the head, then hurries on his way. He spent a half century as an actor and finds that the public remembers him only as the hayseed Pa of the Kettle family series, which he recalls with distaste.

Earthquake Origins

His career started in 1905 in his native San Francisco and nearly ended the next year in the earthquake. He survived but his theater didn't, and he began years of traveling with stock companies, playing a different melodrama weekly. He later made it to Broadway as a popular character man and came to films in the role he created on the stage in "George Washington Slept Here."

Kilbride enjoyed steady employment in films, often as a taxi driver, even though he didn't drive. Then fate was to cast him and Marjorie Main as the rambunctious Kettles in "The Egg and I."

Sick of Character

The follow-up series was highly successful. But Kilbride was distressed at playing the same bucolic character, and the sight-gag stunts were too violent for his delicate constitution.

"After my contract was up, I told the studio I wouldn't do any more," he said. "But then a new regime took over Universal. They offered me a limousine to and from work and an amazing amount of money."

"Well, I agreed to do one more. But I made them put in the contract that no one at the studio could even mention the possibility that I might do another one."

Ended With 7th

Kilbride limped through "Ma and Pa Kettle at Home," the seventh of the series. He was so ill and distressed by the end of it that he decided to close out his career.

That was 11 years ago, and he now appears as hale as in his prime as Pa Kettle. He admitted that retirement sits well with him.

"I live very quietly," he remarked. "I see some friends now and then. Mostly, I walk. I walk four miles a day or more — down to Wilshire Boulevard or over to Griffith Park. I like to walk."

"At night I stay in my apartment and read. Don't watch television. Don't do much of anything. Don't miss doing anything. It's pretty easy to do, you know, if you set your mind to it. I think it comes easy to actors. We spend a great deal of our lives doing nothing."

Mt. Tremper

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson of Lake Worth, Fla., spent a few days with Llewellyn Pluger. They called on Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Wilber one afternoon.

Mrs. Lulu Wilber, Mrs. Mabel Simmons and William Wilber of Kingston were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Wilber and daughter, Ruth, Sunday. Mrs. Anna Devall has returned to her home in New York City after a two-week visit with Mr. and Mrs. Wilber.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelsey, Mr. and Mrs. Norman S. Wilber and family had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Norman D. Wilber recently to celebrate the birthdays of Laurel Wilber and Mrs. Gertrude Wilber.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Umhey and two sons and Mrs. Helene Umhey were dinner guests of Mrs. James Platt on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parsons of Boiceville, Miss Joan Adams and friend of Brooklyn called on Mr. and Mrs. William Wrixon Sr. in Phoenicia Saturday evening.

About 16 guests attended a cookout at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Winne Sr. on Sunday in honor of Mr. Winne's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pellengrino and their six children have returned to their home on Long Island after visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pinto for a month. Miss Lucy Berryann of Kingston is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ella Hoffman, for a week.

Mrs. Grover Hedges and Mrs. Alta DeSilva were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reese Smith and Mrs. Alida Lane Tuesday.

Has Varied Uses

Gutta-percha is the name applied to the evaporated milky fluid, or latex, furnished by several trees in the Malay archipelago. It has varied uses, such as golf ball covers, electrical insulation and chewing gum, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Shade Over 9,000 Attend 2nd Day At Dutchess Fair

A shade over 9,000 attended the second day of Dutchess County Fair at Rhinebeck Wednesday.

Rain showers over the fair grounds during the afternoon kept the attendance under the 11,000 recorded last year.

Children's Day will be observed today and all youngsters 12 and under will be admitted free. Free grandstand shows are at 2 and 8 p. m.

At 7 tonight Rhinebeck American Legion Band will present a concert and there will be a 4-H agricultural demonstration. Friday's program will be as follows:

9 a. m.—Horse show, English; open class Jersey dairy judging; open class Ayrshire judging. 9:30 a. m.—Apple pie baking contest for 4-Hers. 10 a. m.—4-H fruit demonstration. 11 a. m.—Hereford judging. 1:30 p. m.—4-H homemaking demonstration. 2 p. m.—Grandstand show featuring Jack Imel. The 8 p. m. show will include the Clydesdale Horses on Parade.

'Red Mass'

Formally called the Votive Mass of the Holy Spirit, the mass held in Catholic churches to mark opening of the court year, takes its more usual name of "Red Mass" from the color of the priest's vestments, symbolizing tongues of fire representing the Holy Spirit.

ADDISON S. GOBLE IBM Lists New Market Manager From Wappingers

The promotion of Addison S. Goble III of Wappingers Falls to manager of market requirements at Kingston, has been announced by IBM's Data Processing Division.

In his new position, Goble will be responsible for evaluating and consolidating the market requirements of new products in several industry areas.

Goble joined IBM in June 1950 as a customer engineering trainee at New York City. After a two-year military leave of absence, he returned to IBM in 1953 as a customer engineer in New York City. In 1954, he began an educational leave of absence from IBM and joined the Poughkeepsie development laboratory in June 1955 as a technical specialist in product planning. He was named a senior planning representative in that area one year later.

In August 1959, he was named a project coordinator in marketing services. He was promoted to advisory engineer in Tele-Processing insurance studies in January 1961, to development engineer in late 1961, and to senior engineer in November 1962, also in that area.

One year later, Goble transferred to Kingston as manager of information systems for DPD market development. He was named manager of market development—public service industries in early 1964, a post he has held until his present promotion.

He received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Princeton University and a master of science degree in applied mathematics from Harvard University. He is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers and its professional group on electronic computers. Mr. Goble, his wife Gertrude and son Spence reside at 40 Phyllis Road, Wappingers Falls.

Stone Ridge

A large attendance was present at the reception held last Sunday evening for the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Carlson. They were presented with a gift by the parish. Following the program a social hour was held in the church hall and refreshments were served.

Episcopal Church of Christ the King, the Rev. David Edman, priest-in-charge—Services at 8 and 10 a. m.

Area Social Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strong and family will leave on or about Sept. 1 for Syracuse, where Mr. Strong will take up his new position.

Miss Charlotte Bogart spent the weekend in Middletown with Miss Mary Stoltz.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bondesen and family left Sunday to make their home in Michigan, where Mr. Bondesen has a position.

Mrs. Wilhelm Hansen is a patient in the Lenox Hill Hospital, New York. Her condition is reported to be improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bell are entertaining his brother and wife from California.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Krom and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bogart and family spent Saturday at the Grahamsville Fair.

Robert Martin Jr. is a patient in the Kingston Hospital. Warry Bogart injured his hand Tuesday.

The firemen were called Monday evening to extinguish a woods fire in the rear of the new home of Axel Johansen. No heavy damage was reported.

Guilty of Exposure

Accused of indecent exposure, Harold R. Bennett, 42, of RD 2, Ithaca, was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Leeds state police. He pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Ernest Van Valin, Town of Windham, and was sentenced to 30 days in the Greene County jail. According to a report of BCI Investigator Patrick Romagnano and Trooper James Mills, Bennett exposed himself to a small boy at the rear of the Windham Methodist Church, troopers said.

Highest Monument

The San Jacinto Monument near Houston, Tex., is the highest monument in the United States. Rising 570 feet, the concrete and lime stone shaft is 15 feet taller than the Washington Monument.

Shade Over 9,000 Attend 2nd Day At Dutchess Fair

A shade over 9,000 attended the second day of Dutchess County Fair at Rhinebeck Wednesday.

Rain showers over the fair grounds during the afternoon kept the attendance under the 11,000 recorded last year.

Children's Day will be observed today and all youngsters 12 and under will be admitted free. Free grandstand shows are at 2 and 8 p. m.

At 7 tonight Rhinebeck American Legion Band will present a concert and there will be a 4-H agricultural demonstration.

Friday's program will be as follows:

9 a. m.—Horse show, English; open class Jersey dairy judging; open class Ayrshire judging.

9:30 a. m.—Apple pie baking contest for 4-Hers.

10 a. m.—4-H fruit demonstration.

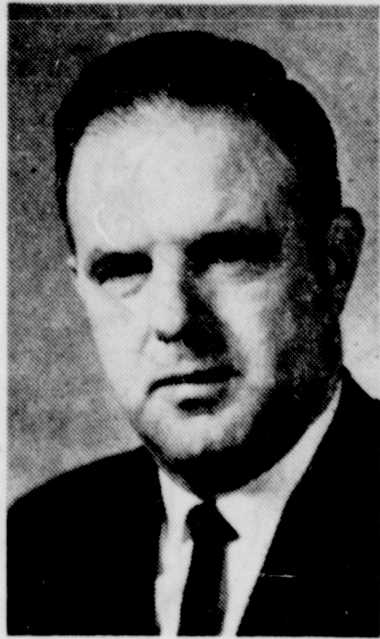

11 a. m.—Hereford judging.

1:30 p. m.—4-H homemaking demonstration.

2 p. m.—Grandstand show featuring Jack Imel. The 8 p. m. show will include the Cidyedale Horses on Parade.

'Red Mass'

Formally called the Votive Mass of the Holy Spirit, the mass held in Catholic churches to mark opening of the court year, takes its more usual name of "Red Mass" from the color of the priest's vestments, symbolizing tongues of fire representing the Holy Spirit.

ADDISON S. GOBLE

IBM Lists New Market Manager From Wappingers

The promotion of Addison S. Goble III of Wappingers Falls to manager of market requirements at Kingston, has been announced by IBM's Data Processing Division.

In his new position, Goble will be responsible for evaluating and consolidating the market requirements of new products in several industry areas.

Goble joined IBM in June 1950 as a customer engineering trainee at New York City. After a two-year military leave of absence, he returned to IBM in 1953 as a customer engineer in New York City. In 1954, he began an educational leave of absence from IBM and joined the Poughkeepsie development laboratory in June 1955 as a technical specialist in product planning. He was named a senior planning representative in that area one year later.

In August 1959, he was named a project coordinator in marketing services. He was promoted to advisory engineer in Tele-Processing insurance studies in January 1961, to development engineer in late 1961, and to senior engineer in November 1962, also in that area.

One year later, Goble transferred to Kingston as manager of information systems for DPD market development. He was named manager of market development — public service industries in early 1964, a post he has held until his present promotion.

He received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering from Princeton University and a master of science degree in applied mathematics from Harvard University. He is a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers and its professional group on electronic computers.

Mr. Goble, his wife Gertrude and son Spence reside at 40 Phyllis Road, Wappingers Falls.

Area Social Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strong and family will leave on or about Sept. 1 for Syracuse, where Mr. Strong will take up his new position.

Miss Charlotte Bogart spent the weekend in Middletown with Miss Mary Stoltz.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bondesen and family left Sunday to make their home in Michigan, where Mr. Bondesen has a position.

Mrs. Wilhelm Hansen is a patient in the Lenox Hill Hospital, New York. Her condition is reported to be improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bell are entertaining his brother and wife from California.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Krom and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bogart and family spent Saturday at the Grahamsville Fair.

Robert Martin Jr. is a patient in the Kingston Hospital. Wally Bogart injured his hand Tuesday.

The firemen were called Monday evening to extinguish a woods fire in the rear of the new home of Axel Johansen. No heavy damage was reported.

Guilty of Exposure

Accused of indecent exposure, Harold R. Bennett, 42, of RD 2, Ithaca, was arrested Wednesday afternoon by Leeds state police. He pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace Ernest Van Valin, Town of Windham, and was sentenced to 30 days in the Greene County jail. According to a report of BCI Investigator Patrick Romagnano and Trooper James Mills, Bennett exposed himself to a small boy at the rear of the Windham Methodist Church, troopers said.

Highest Monument

The San Jacinto Monument near Houston, Tex., is the highest monument in the United States. Rising 570 feet, the concrete and lime stone shaft is 15 feet taller than the Washington Monument.

Threat Is Made On Resort Where U.N. Institute Held

OLD FORGE, N.Y. (AP)—An exclusive Adirondack resort hotel, scene of an institute on the United Nations, was under a tight State Police guard today as a result of a telephone threat to "blow up the place."

It appeared that the anonymous person who called the Albedor Lodge on Tuesday night made his threat because of dislike for the United Nations.

Harlan Cleveland, assistant secretary of state for international affairs, was one of the scheduled guest speakers at today's session of the institute, attended by about 20 college professors.

The institute is sponsored by Syracuse University's Maxwell School of Citizenship. It is to continue through Friday.

A State Police search of the premises turned up no bomb. But six troopers were assigned Wednesday to keep watch on the two-story frame building, about 11 miles north of here.

State Police said the call was received by the lodge proprietor, Hans Holl, who told them it was a long-distance, person-to-person call. A check of the telephone company did not uncover the source of the call, but yielded the information that the toll charge was 55 cents.

Troopers said an unidentified man put up anti-UN posters in the area Tuesday night. But, they said, a heavy rain that ensued probably washed away fingerprints.

The man also distributed handbills claiming the UN was infiltrated by Communists.

Mohawk Seeking Permanent OK To Fly Upstate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mohawk Airlines is seeking permanent authority to operate its routes across Upstate New York and to drop Olean, N.Y., from its scheduled stops.

In an application to the Civil Aeronautics Board Wednesday, Mohawk asked permission to delete Olean from route 5, which runs between Cleveland, Ohio, and Utica-Rome, N.Y.

Other stops along the route are Jamestown, Elmira-Corning, Binghamton, Endicott, Johnson City and Ithaca-Cortland.

Mohawk service continues eastward, via route 3, which operates between Utica-Rome and Boston, with stops at Albany, Hartford, Conn., Springfield, Mass., and Providence, R.I.

The airline asked that the two routes be designated as a single Cleveland-Boston route and that it be given indefinite authority to serve it.

Teen Says Rifle Killed in Error

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) — A teenaged boy who said his rifle accidentally discharged through his bedroom window was responsible for the death of a deliveryman here Wednesday, police say.

Police made a house-to-house check of the neighborhood after finding the body of Frederick York, 40, of Auburn, lying at a street intersection in the city's west side. He had been shot through the neck.

At a house about 100 yards away, police said, they came upon the frightened boy, who told them he was cleaning his .22-caliber rifle in his upstairs bedroom when it discharged through the window. He said he did not know the weapon was loaded.

No charges were placed against the youth, whose name was withheld because he is a juvenile.

York was married and the father of one.

Social Agencies Group Discuss Membership Drive

Plans for a membership drive were formulated at a recent meeting of Ulster County Council of Social Agencies held at Ulster County TB and Health Association offices.

Serving as chairman will be Miss Catherine Murphy, former executive secretary of the TB & Health Association. Co-chairman is Mrs. Ethel Martin of Ulster County Girl Scout Council.

Others participating in the meeting were John Darcy, representing Ulster County Community Chest; George Habernig, Social Security office; Mrs. Evelyn Hubbard, Red Cross; Miss Mary Keresman, Cerebral Palsy Center; Mrs. Evelyn Weiner, Ulster County Welfare, and E. Robert Johnson, council treasurer.

The aim of the committee is to organize membership plans for the year. Membership will be drawn from professional and lay members of Ulster County agencies performing services in the areas of education, health, recreation and welfare.

Council members are alerted to area problems at monthly luncheon meetings. Membership in the council affords the opportunity for area interchange of needs and services between organizations. Further information may be obtained by calling representatives of the committee or the president, Mrs. Kirkland Snyder.

Open Labor Office For Farm Workers In Clintondale

The New York State Employment Service has reopened the seasonal farm labor office in Clintondale to assist area growers in the recruitment of harvest workers.

The office is located in the Clintondale Grange Hall and will be open 8:30 to 5 p. m. Monday through Friday. During the months of August, September and October a farm employment representative from the Kingston office will be stationed in Clintondale.

Growers and workers are asked to place all orders for work early; notify the seasonal farm office if any shortage or surplus of workers develops; direct all workers without a job to the seasonal office; direct all workers no longer needed to the office.

Special Services At Vly Chapel

Special services will be held at the Vly chapel Sunday evening, Aug. 30 and Thursday evening, Sept. 3 with a closing service Sunday, Sept. 6. All services will be at 7:30.

The speaker for these services will be the Rev. Walter Williamson. Early in life, the Rev. Mr. Williamson lost partial vision in both eyes. Several operations were performed, and his sight improved, but later he became totally blind.

Despite his affliction, he has ministered with eminent success both as a pastor in New York State and as an evangelist in numerous campaigns across the entire continent and in Canada. His rich and varied gifts as a singer, speaker and musician enable him to present a program which is both interesting and inspirational. He plays the piano, violin, horn, and harmonica often combining the horn or harmonica with the piano, playing both simultaneously. He is accompanied by his wife, Roberta, who sings soprano solos, and joins him in duets. His cheerful attitude and patience have stirred others to greater zeal and service in the Christian life.

To Study Rail Strife

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has come up with a labor first: a seven-member board to investigate three separate disputes involving the nation's railroads and 11 nonoperating railroad unions.

Usually, such boards created under the Railway Labor Act have three members.

All 11 unions are involved in one dispute. They are demanding improved vacations, holidays and health and welfare provisions.

A second dispute, involving five of the unions, relates to stabilization of employment and wage increases. In the third dispute, six shop craft unions are demanding increased wages.

Castle Point VA Hospital Marks 40th Anniversary

The Veterans Administration Hospital, Castle Point will observe the completion of 40 years of humanitarian service in the care and treatment of disabled veterans, during September. Forty years ago, on September 15, 1924, Castle Point admitted its first patient.

Appropriate recognition of the 40th Anniversary will take place on four scheduled days beginning on "Professional Day," Friday, Sept. 11 and climaxing with "Rededication Day," Sunday, Sept. 20.

Former Castle Point surgeon, Dr. William Chardack, now chief of surgery at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Buffalo and associate professor of surgery for the University of Buffalo, has accepted the hospital's invitation to be guest speaker on "Professional Day," Sept. 11. Dr. Chardack gained international recognition in Dec. 1959, when he reported that he had perfected a pacemaker to be "implanted within human beings." By means of this device no larger than a pocket watch, for the long-term correction of heart block, the physician keeps the heart beating through electrical impulses. Dr. Chardack will speak in the Recreation Hall at 2 p. m. His subject will be "Control of the Rate and Power of the Heart by Electrical Stimulation."

It is anticipated that many previous members of the professional staff at Castle Point will return for this occasion. An invitation is also extended to physicians in the area who might choose to attend. A meeting of chiefs of staff from Veterans Administration Hospitals in the Metropolitan Area of New York City also has been scheduled for 11 a. m. on Sept. 11 to coincide with this phase of Castle Point's 40th Anniversary Celebration.

News About Marital Front in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Anna Maria Alberghetti says she and director Claudio Guzman will be married Sept. 12 at Los Angeles.

Allen Funt, host of the CBS television show, "Candid Camera," was divorced in Reno, Nev., by his wife of 18 years, Evelyn. The property settlement and agreement on custody of their three children was sealed by the court.

Actress Jayne Mansfield filed suit in Santa Monica, Calif., to have a 1963 Mexican divorce from Mickey Hargitay declared valid. The couple reconciled after Jayne obtained the divorce, but friends say they have separated again.

Conservatives Considering Showdown on Electors Issue

By ROBERT T. GRAY
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Conservative Party leadership, determined to have a statewide role in this year's election campaign, is seriously considering a plan to force a showdown with Republicans over the issue of presidential electors.

Some tricky byplay is involved. The Conservatives have maneuvered themselves into position to endorse the same candidates for electors that the Republicans choose, although the GOP has refused to give permission for such a step.

If the Conservatives go ahead, the Republicans then will have to yield or fight it out in the courts. The GOP will choose at its state convention Monday a slate of 43 electors pledged to Sen. Barry Goldwater for president and Rep. William E. Miller for vice president.

While the names of the national candidates will appear at the top of the ballot on Election Day, voters actually will be choosing electors.

Will Have Choice

The individual electors who receive the highest vote will help choose the president.

electors would be splitting the Goldwater vote with the Republican electors to the benefit of the Democrats.

Not wishing to do this, but wanting to have Goldwater's name at the top of their ticket, the Conservatives have tried in vain to win permission from the GOP to run the Republican electors.

GOP leaders, including Gov. Rockefeller, reply that anyone wanting to vote for Goldwater will have full opportunity to do so on the Republican line.

The Conservatives' state convention will be held Monday, the same day as the Republicans. The GOP is keeping the names of its electors secret until Monday, partially to confound the Conservatives and thwart any plans of piracy.

But, in a display of political gamesmanship, the Conservatives now have deferred until Wednesday the choice of a slate of electors.

The party will hold its convention as scheduled at Saratoga Springs but its state committee will meet in Manhattan two days later to choose electors—48 hours after the Republicans have announced theirs.

A Conservative party source said the possibility of simply naming the Republican slate was being weighed.

If this happened, it would be up to the Republicans to bring a legal challenge to prevent the Conservatives from filing the

Thwarts Robbery

BOSTON (AP)—Teller Robert Mathias of the Suffolk-Franklin Bank in Park Square was handed a note Tuesday.

"You will act quite natural and follow the instructions explicitly. Your failure to do so or to give an alarm will force me to shoot you or anyone who interferes, regardless of my personal safety. Now quickly put all the bills in the envelope. If you are not still I will open fire on anyone."

Mathias dropped to the floor and shouted, "Robbery! Robbery!"

The bandit fled.

Kenneth B. Keating, to back Goldwater.

A Conservative nominee could drain votes from Keating.

One reason the Republicans have been adamant in refusing to agree to joint electors is that Republicans unhappy with state GOP affairs might be more inclined to vote Conservative if Goldwater's name appeared at the top of the Conservative ballot.

State to Appeal Ruling On Apportionment

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz and Secretary of State John P. Lomenzo have served notice of appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court from court order that the state must reapportion its legislative districts on a prescribed schedule.

The officials, both Republicans, challenge the constitutionality of the order issued July 27 by a special three-judge federal court here.

The appeal notices were filed in Federal Court Tuesday. The order being contested was designed to put into effect the Supreme Court's decision of electors would be splitting the Goldwater vote with the Republican electors to the benefit of the Democrats.

June 15 which said the state's formula for apportioning seats in the Senate and Assembly was unconstitutional. The high court held that the districts from which members of the state legislature are elected must be "substantially equal" in population.

Not wishing to do this, but wanting to have Goldwater's name at the top of their ticket, the Conservatives have tried in vain to win permission from the GOP to run the Republican electors.

GOP leaders, including Gov. Rockefeller, reply that anyone wanting to vote for Goldwater will have full opportunity to do so on the Republican line.

The Conservatives' state convention will be held Monday, the same day as the Republicans.

The GOP is keeping the names of its electors secret until Monday, partially to confound the Conservatives and thwart any plans of piracy.

But, in a display of political gamesmanship, the Conservatives now have deferred until Wednesday the choice of a slate of electors.

The party will hold its convention as scheduled at Saratoga Springs but its state committee will meet in Manhattan two days later to choose electors—48 hours after the Republicans have announced theirs.

A Conservative party source said the possibility of simply naming the Republican slate was being weighed.

If this happened, it would be up to the Republicans to bring a legal challenge to prevent the Conservatives from filing the

Thwarts Robbery

BOSTON (AP)—Teller Robert Mathias of the Suffolk-Franklin Bank in Park Square was handed a note Tuesday.

"You will act quite natural and follow the instructions explicitly. Your failure to do so or to give an alarm will force me to shoot you or anyone who interferes, regardless of my personal safety. Now quickly put all the bills in the envelope. If you are not still I will open fire on anyone."

Mathias dropped to the floor and shouted, "Robbery! Robbery!"

The bandit fled.

Kenneth B. Keating, to back Goldwater.

A Conservative nominee could drain votes from Keating. One reason the Republicans have been adamant in refusing to agree to joint electors is that Republicans unhappy with state GOP affairs might be more inclined to vote Conservative if Goldwater's name appeared at the top of the Conservative ballot.

State to Appeal Ruling On Apportionment

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz and Secretary of State John P. Lomenzo have served notice of appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court from court order that the state must reapportion its legislative districts on a prescribed schedule.

The officials, both Republicans, challenge the constitutionality of the order issued July 27 by a special three-judge federal court here.

The appeal notices were filed in Federal Court Tuesday. The order being contested was designed to put into effect the Supreme Court's decision of June 15 which said the state's formula for apportioning seats in the Senate and Assembly was unconstitutional. The high court held that the districts from which members of the state legislatures are elected must be "substantially equal" in population.

Circles White House for Tolerance Test

President Johnson, 56, Declared Physically Fit for His Campaign

By LEE GARRETT
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, 56 years old today, has his party's overwhelming endorsement for another term in office and his doctors' assurance he is physically fit for "an active vigorous life."

For a birthday party, he was assured a rousing reception from the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, where he goes tonight to accept formally the full-term nomination handed him without contest Wednesday night.

Verdict of Four
The verdict of four doctors on his physical condition was disclosed by the President Wednesday as he led newsmen on a 4 1/2-mile hike, talking as he circled 15 laps around the back driveway of the White House.

Loping easily along in the high-humidity heat Johnson convinced less-athletic newsmen of the doctors' finding that his "exercise tolerance continues to be superb" despite a serious heart attack in 1955.

He took a few more fast laps later with his choice for a running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota; took time out for an informal birthday party at which his staff presented him with a desk; and capped an active day with a flight to the convention city which lasted into the early morning hours.

Plans to Do Job
In the course of the 90-minute afternoon marathon, Johnson: — Foresaw a Democratic victory in November, saying various polls show "we run, generally speaking, 60-70 per cent" compared with 25 to 30 per cent for Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee.

— Said he plans campaign trips for one, two or three days a week where possible but for the most part will "stay right here in this house and do my job."

— Announced he plans to send to Congress next January another budget below $100 billion, and said he issued orders that advance estimates be made on that basis.

Blood Pressure Normal
The physical examination which Johnson announced was the first he had reported since taking office last November. He underwent it on Monday, after a 9-lap tour of the White House driveway which had set his record up to that time.

Two of the participating doctors had treated Johnson after his 1955 heart attack. They are Dr. J. Willis Hurst of Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. J. C. Chalmers of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

The others are Dr. George G. Burkley, a Navy rear admiral who is official White House physician, and Dr. James M. Young, an Army doctor on the White House staff.

They said Johnson has "no symptoms," that his blood pressure is normal, and that all other aspects of the examination were normal.

County Vols Will Meet Wednesday
An important meeting of the board of directors of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held Wednesday, Sept. 2, at 7:30 p. m. at the Esopus firehouse.

This will be the organizational meeting and a chairman of the board will be named. Other important matters will also be discussed by the members, among them plans for Fire Prevention Week.

Subdue Dump Fire
Volunteer firemen worked for about 45 minutes this morning to subdue a stubborn dump fire in Modena.

IN THE AIR — Here are the U. S. Navy's new Boeing-Vertol UH-46A helicopters. They'll be used to transport cargo from supply ships to combatant vessels at sea.

FAST FREEZE — Tony Brehm's not packed in cracked ice. He just faced a camera with a shutter speed fast enough to stop splashing water in a Racine, Wis., pool.

face of mounting demonstrations from Buddhists and student groups.

Fire on Mob
Today's casualties were reported when government troops fired on a mob of 2,000 which tried to enter a compound where junta members were meeting to choose a new head of state.

A Roman Catholic group pushed toward the military compound and a Saigon radio station, Buddhist and student groups massed to confront the Catholics at the radio station.

The demonstrators demanded that the council resist Buddhist and student demands that it step down and pave the way for civilian rule.

Name Triumvirate
Reliable sources said that Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khien, former minister of defense; and Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, former president, were named with Khanh as members of the triumvirate.

An announcement received in Saigon by diplomatic sources said the three would rule until a national congress elects a head of government.

Khanh stepped down Tuesday in the face of widespread student demonstrations. Minh had been figurehead chief of state until 11 days ago when Khanh proclaimed himself president under a new constitution.

Minh was ousted in the shake-up touching off student charges that Khanh had made himself head of a military dictatorship. A popular Buddhist leader, Minh had directed the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem's government last November.

Two Cars Collide
Occupants of two cars escaped injury at 3:45 p. m. Wednesday in a collision on John Street at the intersection of Routes 32 and 9W, Town of Ulster. Trooper Thomas Crowley of Kingston sub-station said the cars were driven by Rose Boughton, 36, of 158 Bruyn Avenue, and John Vitariis, 48, of Sunrise Drive, Port Ewen. Troopers said Vitariis swerved to avoid hitting a dog just before the collision.

Vance Takes Issue With Goldwater On Weapons Use

CLEVELAND (AP) — Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance said today that to label tactical nuclear weapons as "conventional" — a description used by Sen. Barry Goldwater — is "dangerously misleading and totally inappropriate."

Vance asserted that typical battlefield nuclear weapons now have destructive power several times greater than the strategic bombs which wiped out two Japanese cities in World War II.

His address was prepared for the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention, at which the Republican presidential nominee spoke Tuesday.

The particular target was Goldwater's proposal that a way should be developed to provide the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) "with its own stock of small, tactical nuclear battlefield weapons."

Goldwater told the veterans that "these small conventional nuclear weapons are no more powerful than the firepower you have faced on the battlefield."

matter of fact

Harry Houdini, the U.S. magician who was famous for his sensational escapes from shackles, ropes, handcuffs, and even locked containers, attributed his success partly to his great physical strength and the fact that he was slightly bowlegged. He campaigned throughout his life against those who claimed supernatural powers and never attributed any of his escapes to anything other than natural means.

Keating Claims Many Democrats With Him

By CHARLES DUMAS

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating says he ran into hundreds of Democrats who said they would vote for him, instead of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, on his first extensive campaign swing Upstate.

At the same time, he reported Wednesday night, he found virtually no resentment among Upstate Republicans toward his refusal to endorse the national GOP ticket headed by Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The white-thatched Republican from Rochester appeared in a chopper moored as he fielded questions from newsmen here after a day of campaigning in Otsego, Schoharie and Hamilton counties.

Of the Republicans he met all the way, he said: "It was a remarkable reception. Everyone was so friendly."

Of the Democrats he said he encountered, Keating reported: "They told me that they resented a man coming in from another state to run for the Senate."

He did not mention the name of Kennedy, his likely Democratic opponent, who is moving into the state to oppose Keating's bid for a second term. The brother of the late President John F. Kennedy has been a legal resident of Massachusetts. Among the many Republicans he met yesterday, Keating said only one of two brought up the subject of his stand on the national ticket.

SEN. K. B. KEATING

At one stop along the route, he said, local Republican officials told him more Democrats turned out "than they had ever seen at a Republican meeting." We would not name the place.

His tour began in Dansville and included stops at Auburn, Ithaca, Oneonta and Cobleskill.

Back to Theatre

NEW YORK (AP) — Actress Maureen O'Sullivan will leave the early morning "Today" network television show in mid-September, a National Broadcasting Co. spokesman said Wednesday.

The spokesman said she "has been reading scripts and said she wanted to return to the stage."

Miss O'Sullivan has been a hostess on the two-hour news and feature show for more than six months.

Vance Takes Issue With Goldwater On Weapons Use

CLEVELAND (AP) — Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance said today that to label tactical nuclear weapons as "conventional" — a description used by Sen. Barry Goldwater — is "dangerously misleading and totally inappropriate."

Vance asserted that typical battlefield nuclear weapons now have destructive power several times greater than the strategic bombs which wiped out two Japanese cities in World War II.

His address was prepared for the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention, at which the Republican presidential nominee spoke Tuesday.

The particular target was Goldwater's proposal that a way should be developed to provide the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) "with its own stock of small, tactical nuclear battlefield weapons."

Goldwater told the veterans that "these small conventional nuclear weapons are no more powerful than the firepower you have faced on the battlefield."

Harry Houdini, the U.S. magician who was famous for his sensational escapes from shackles, ropes, handcuffs, and even locked containers, attributed his success partly to his great physical strength and the fact that he was slightly bowlegged. He campaigned throughout his life against those who claimed supernatural powers and never attributed any of his escapes to anything other than natural means.

Keating Claims Many Democrats With Him

By CHARLES DUMAS
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — U.S. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating says he ran into hundreds of Democrats who said they would vote for him, instead of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, on his first extensive campaign swing Upstate.

At the same time, he reported Wednesday night, he found virtually no resentment among Upstate Republicans toward his refusal to endorse the national GOP ticket headed by Sen. Barry Goldwater.

The white-thatched Republican from Rochester appeared in a chipper mood as he fielded questions from newsmen here after a day of campaigning. He said he was in Otsego and Schoharie Counties.

Of the Republicans he met all the way, he said: "It was a remarkable reception. Everyone was so friendly."

Of the Democrats he said he encountered, Keating reported: "They told me that they resented a man coming in from another state to run for the Senate."

He did not mention the name of Kennedy, his likely Democratic opponent, who is moving into the state to oppose Keating's bid for a second term. The brother of the late President John F. Kennedy has been a legal resident of Massachusetts. Among the many Republicans he met yesterday, Keating said only one of two brought up the subject of his stand on the national ticket.

SEN. K. B. KEATING

At one stop along the route, he said, local Republican officials told him more Democrats turned out "than they had ever seen at a Republican meeting." We would not name the place. His tour began in Dansville and included stops at Auburn, Ithaca, Oneonta and Cobleskill.

How to Bid Jacoby Slams

BY OSWALD JACOBY

If you want to use the Jacoby slam method be sure to save this article and make sure that your partners will understand it also. Here is the method:

If a player jumps to four clubs from the one level he is asking for aces, provided clubs have not been bid as a suit. Any time he jumps to four no-trump when he could ask for aces by means of a four-club bid he is making a strong no-trump bid. Otherwise, his four no-trump calls are Blackwood.

There is one exception to this. If partner bids three no-trump in any normal bidding sequence neither four no-trump nor four clubs asks for aces. Both become natural bids and five clubs is used as the ace request.

The responses to a four or five-club request are:

Diamonds, none or four.

Hearts, one.

Spades, two.

No trump, three.

South has one of those hands that are almost strong enough for an opening two bid. After he opens one spade and his partner raises him to two he is interested in a slam if partner raises him to two he is interested in a slam if partner holds just one ace, but would like to be able to quit at four if his partner has no aces. The four-club bid makes this possible. North responds four hearts to show one ace and South bids the slam.

South ruffs the second heart; draws trumps with two leads; starts on the diamonds, and makes the rest of the tricks easily because he does not find five diamonds in one hand.

"TOY" LASER GUN—Dr. Arthur L. Schawlow, a Stanford physics professor, is able to break the dark "Bugs Bunny" balloon (which absorbs light) without breaking the transparent outer balloon (which does not). His gimmick: a low-energy laser built into a child's toy gun. The amplified light of the laser can bore holes through the hardest substances.

Expresses Views

Editor, The Freeman:

I am writing this letter to get something off my chest. I have read in this newspaper that our Library is near the bottom of the list and is practically forgotten; also, that the schools are worried about drop-outs. Why, most potential drop-outs can be detected by the fourth grade, and that is the time to really help them, and it is usually reading which causes these students the most trouble.

If our City cares so little for our Library, then it holds that our teachers cannot detect a poor reader and its terrible consequences, because neither thinks books are really important.

Also, in Kingston, everyone is a Conformist. Few people develop into free thinkers, each tries to be exactly like his neighbor. If a person wishes to be alone for awhile to think he is considered a "kook". If he says that there should be improvements or refinements in city services, he is considered odd; if he complains to the school about anything which he honestly believes is important, he is written down in his child's records as "nosy"; and not only that, but he is told outright by the principal that it will hurt his child to complain.

If a person's name is Goldwater, he will be supported to the high heavens by most of the good Republicans, but he would not be taken into their Chip and Putt Club, their Swim Club or their social Tennis Club.

They are proud of color because they say that Joe Louis once played here.

There are a lot of things we should all do to make things better in our City, the first one is to try harder to live our lives in the image of Jesus, and think about the other person in the best light.

Yours truly,
GEORGE CARPOUZIS

Sept. 21 Deadline For Registering At Election Board

The Ulster County Board of Elections issued a reminder today that Central Registration is continuing until Sept. 21, Mondays through Fridays during office hours.

Any qualified voter may register and at the same time apply for an absentee ballot, if needed, at the office of the Board of Elections, 74 John Street, if they will be unable to be present at their polling place on the regular registration days, which in the City of Kingston, will be Oct. 2, 3 and 9 from 10 a. m. until 10 p. m. and on Oct. 10 from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. In the towns the registration days will be Oct. 3 from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. and on October 10 from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m.

New residents who have moved within Ulster County may also register personally for a special Presidential voter's ballot if they do not meet the residential requirements of a year in the state, four months in the county and thirty days in the election district. This special ballot allows persons to vote for presidential and vice-presidential electors only. They must, however, be a resident of New York State for 90 days by election day and a resident of the election district for thirty days. They must also meet all other voting requirements which are:

A citizen who shall be 21 on the day of election.
If naturalized citizen, naturalized at least 90 days prior to election. In addition such persons must be able to read and write English.

Proof of literacy must be presented when registering the first time in New York state. Such proof must be in the form of an eighth grade diploma or higher. It is suggested by the Board of Elections that you bring a diploma with you at the time of registration. If the diploma is lost or unavailable you may sign a certificate so stating. If the voter did not obtain an eighth grade diploma, he may take a literacy test. These tests are given in the City of Kingston for city residents at Kingston High School at the same dates and times that the polls are open on regular registration days. In the towns the literacy tests are given by the inspectors of election at the various polling places. These tests are also given at the office of the Board of Elections during Central Registration.

The office of the Board of Elections will be open one Saturday this year, Sept. 19, from 10 a. m. to noon for those persons who will be away on the regular registration days and cannot come in during the week for Central Registration.

To find out election districts and polling places in the towns outside the City of Kingston, the town clerk may be contacted. Any other information regarding registration or voting may be obtained by calling the Ulster County Board of Elections.

Choosing a state bird is a modern custom in the United States. Kentucky initiated the practice by adopting the cardinal in 1926.

Saugerties Man Escapes Serious Injury in Crash

John W. Carter, 35, of 30 Kalina Drive, Saugerties, escaped serious injury shortly before midnight when his car went out of control on Route 213 at St. Remy and went into a culvert.

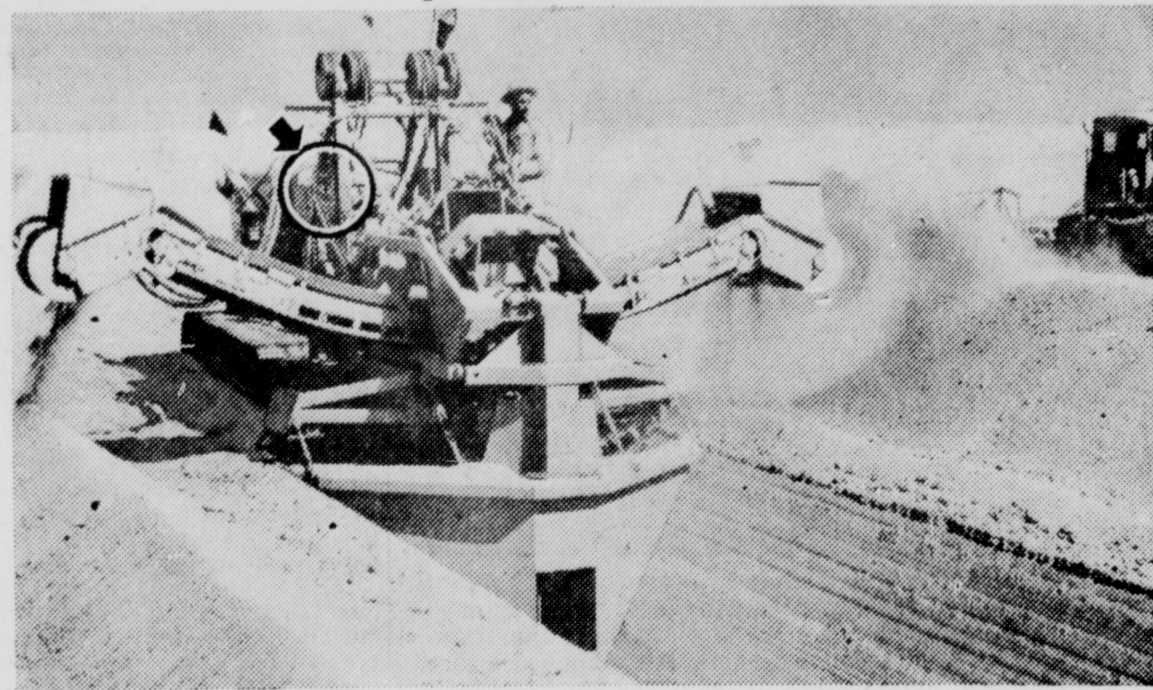

Carter was taken to Benedictine Hospital by Doctor's ambulance. Deputy Sheriffs Daniel Levy and James Freer investigated and reported the Saugerties motorist was examined at the hospital and released.

Deputies reported the car was traveling south when Carter lost control.

Pays $25 Fine
Stanley Gleba, 57, of Wilmington Del., was fined $25 Wednesday, after pleading guilty before Saugerties Village Police Judge P. Thomas Rea Jr., to a charge of driving a car without license. Gleba was summoned by Patrolman Harry Vickery. The motorist was detained until the fine was paid.

Library to Offer Novel Labor Show With Talks, Films

The Kingston City Library will be giving a special program called "Labor Day at the Library" Sept. 3, Thursday, at 7 p. m. The theme of the program will be the contribution American labor has made to the American way of life.

All members of organized labor are special guests and invitations have been sent to all area labor locals advising them of the program.

This is the first of a series of programs which the library will be giving to advise groups and organizations of the services which can be obtained from the library.

Because of the proximity of Labor Day, Sept. 7, the library will honor the men and women of American labor.

Mrs. Rita Ward, business agent for the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, Local 156, will give a short talk at the beginning of the program, concerning labor in the Kingston area.

Following this there will be a film program featuring: John F. Kennedy's Last Words to Labor, the speech given by the late President Kennedy at the AFL-CIO Convention in 1963.

Change or Challenge, a U. S. Department of Labor film which contrasts conditions in the U. S. over the 50 year period of the existence of the department.

A number of other films are anticipated. The films were obtained from the AFL-CIO Education Department courtesy of George J. Jerry, business representative for the Carpenters District Council, Kingston Metal Trades Council, AFL Bartenders, and Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union 666.

Special displays of new books and other library materials will be on display on the subject of American labor. Posters, pamphlets and magazines have been provided by many local labor unions for display.

Don Sager, library director, will give a short talk on the many materials and services which the library provides; such as its hundreds of records, the film loan program with over 7500 films in the library's catalog, Dial-a-book, reference service, speakers file, inter-library loan, and also tell where additional free and useful materials can be obtained.

In addition to the films, speakers, displays and exhibits, a special listening room will be set aside for people to hear the history of how Labor Day started, a special recording made by a noted radio commentator.

Refreshments will be provided during the program.

Honeymoon's Origin

The word "honeymoon" originated from an ancient custom among northern nations of Europe. It was the custom of newly married couple to drink wine made from honey for 30 days or a moon, after their marriage.

Dear Abby . . .

Dead End Street!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Like the taxidermist whose problem was a fiancée who couldn't stand the sight of stuffed animals, I have a problem. I am a mortician, and my fiancée can't stand my work, although I never discuss it after hours.

After having gone to mortician college and investing much time and money in my profession, I've become somewhat successful, and don't want to give it up. My fiancée refuses to marry me unless I change my profession. I love her, but if I am going to support her, unlike the taxidermist, I can't store my zoo in the attic.

IN DEAD EARNEST

DEAR IN: If your fiancée doesn't dig your profession, it's time to bury your relationship.

DEAR ABBY: Saturday night I was asked to baby-sit for some neighbors who had just moved into our neighborhood. They agreed to pay me 50c an hour and asked me to be at their house at 7:30 p. m. sharp. I got there at about 7:25. They didn't leave the house until 8:30. They came home at 12:30 that evening and paid me two dollars. I didn't say anything. My mother said that since I was asked to be at their home at 7:30 I should have charged them for the time I sat and waited for them to leave. Do you agree with her? Should I mention to them that they owe me 50c if they ask me to sit for them again? Or should I refuse to sit for them? They were very nice otherwise. I am a 17-year-old girl.

CHEATED

DEAR CHEATED: Since you accepted the two dollars and said nothing, your silence implied that you were satisfied. Say nothing, but should they ask you to sit for them again, tell them you charge from the time you are asked to be at their home.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you'd settle something for my husband and me. About two years ago we went to a housewarming party for two of our closest friends. We gave them an expensive present. We visit them in their home often and we have never seen our gift in any room. I want to ask about it but my husband thinks it would be rude. What would you do?

LIBBY

DEAR LIBBY: I'd listen to my husband.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I were first married we were so broke our wedding party consisted of us, our witnesses, and the preacher. After the ceremony we took them out for dinner. They ordered the most expensive steaks on the menu so we had to shorten our honeymoon by one day.

A year later, on our anniversary, we had a beautiful wedding with all the trimmings. I had a white gown and veil. White stands for purity, not virginity, and a married woman can be as pure as any virgin. The only difference between this and a first wedding was in our wording of the invitations, which read, "To the renewal of their vows" instead of "To the marriage of." Our minister said couples can stage a wedding and renew their vows as many times as they wish. In fact, he recommends it. Sincerely, "A RENEWER"

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Yankee tourist dollars have been flowing freely to Mexico and the Caribbean but South America is getting comparatively few of them. And with American tourism a growing industry, wooed by many countries, the continent to the south may be missing a good bet.

That is the opinion of banking economists specializing in the financial relations of the Western Hemisphere. Their conclusion is that South American countries just aren't trying hard enough to get their share.

Americans last year spent $448 million in Mexico. U.S. travelers, mostly tourists, spent $150 million in 1963 in the Caribbean area. About 100,000 Americans spent $36 million traveling in South America, and a good part of that probably was spent on business trips rather than tourist jaunts.

The South American share of the total U.S. expenditure on tourist travel last year was only 2.5 per cent, little changed in the last five years when American travel abroad was increasing by leaps and bounds.

The Department of Commerce

reports U.S. residents last year spent $3.2 billion in travel out of the country, much for pleasure though some for business. This was a gain of 11 per cent over 1962.

Admittedly, Mexico and the islands to the south have the advantage of closeness and less expensive transportation cost. But economists at the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York say that equally important have been the efforts made to attract tourists. These include advertising and setting up information centers in the United States, as well as upgrading hotel, dining and transportation facilities.

The bank economists report: "Last year, Mexican exports totaled $982 million, while tourism from all countries pulled in some $655 million. This permitted the country to show a $144-million surplus in its over-all balance of payments."

Jamaica is another example. Its total merchandise exports last year came to $26 million, but receipts from U.S. tourists were $40 million.

The economists say Venezuela and Colombia have made some efforts to get in on the gravy, but the rest of South America has done very little.

Dear Abby . . . Dead End Street!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Like the taxidermist whose problem was a fiancée who couldn't stand the sight of stuffed animals, I have a problem. I am a mortician, and my fiancée can't stand my work, although I never discuss it after hours.

After having gone to mortician college and investing much time and money in my profession, I've become somewhat successful, and don't want to give it up. My fiancée refuses to marry me unless I change my profession. I love her, but if I am going to support her, unlike the taxidermist, I can't store my zoo in the attic.

IN DEAD EARNEST

DEAR IN: If your fiancée doesn't dig your profession, it's time to bury your relationship.

DEAR ABBY: Saturday night I was asked to baby-sit for some neighbors who had just moved into our neighborhood. They agreed to pay me 50¢ an hour and asked me to be at their house at 7:30 p. m. sharp. I got there at about 7:25. They didn't leave the house until 8:30. They came home at 12:30 that evening and paid me two dollars. I didn't say anything. My mother said that since I was asked to be at their home at 7:30 I should have charged them for the time I sat and waited for them to leave. Do you agree with her? Should I mention to them that they owe me 50¢ if they ask me to sit for them again? Or should I refuse to sit for them? They were very nice otherwise. I am a 17-year-old girl.

CHEATED

DEAR CHEATED: Since you accepted the two dollars and said nothing, your silence implied that you were satisfied. Say nothing, but should they ask you to sit for them again, tell them you charge from the time you are asked to be at their home.

DEAR ABBY: I wish you'd settle something for my husband and me. About two years ago we went to a housewarming party for two of our closest friends. We gave them an expensive present. We visited them in their home often and we have never seen our gift in any room. I want to ask about it but my husband thinks it would be rude. What would you do?

LIBBY

DEAR LIBBY: I'd listen to my husband.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband and I were first married we were so broke our wedding party consisted of us, our witnesses, and the preacher. After the ceremony we took them out for dinner. They ordered the most expensive steaks on the menu so we had to shorten our honeymoon by one day.

A year later, on our anniversary, we had a beautiful wedding with all the trimmings. I had a white gown and veil. White stands for purity, not virginity, and a married woman can be as pure as any virgin. The only difference between this and a first wedding was in our wording of the invitations, which read, "To the renewal of their vows" instead of "To the marriage of." Our minister said couples can stage a wedding and renew their vows as many times as they wish. In fact, he recommends it. Sincerely, "A RENEWER"

Announce Corps Winning in VFW Drum, Bugle Test

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The top prize of $1,000 in the Veterans of Foreign Wars annual drum and bugle competition here went to a unit from Burlington, Wis.

The Burlington group won the award Wednesday night in the contest at Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

The St. Joseph's unit from Post 1602, Batavia, N.Y., took sixth place in the competition.

Erroneous Report In Shokan Column

An item appearing in the Monday Shokan News column reported Mrs. Bernard Casablanca was supervising summer playground activities in the village center. In a statement to The Freeman today, Mrs. Casablanca said the information was completely erroneous.

Bourbon whiskey gets its name from Bourbon County, in north-eastern Kentucky.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Yankee tourist dollars have been flowing freely to Mexico and the Caribbean but South America is getting comparatively few of them. And with American tourism a growing industry, wooed by many countries, the continent to the south may be missing a good bet.

That is the opinion of banking economists specializing in the financial relations of the Western Hemisphere. Their conclusion is that South American countries just aren't trying hard enough to get their share.

Americans last year spent $448 million in Mexico. U.S. travelers, mostly tourists, spent $150 million in 1963 in the Caribbean area. About 100,000 Americans spent $56 million traveling in South America, and a good part of that probably was spent on business trips rather than tourist jaunts.

The South American share of the total U.S. expenditure on tourist travel last year was only 2.5 per cent, little changed in the last five years when American travel abroad was increasing by leaps and bounds.

The Department of Commerce

reports U.S. residents last year spent $3.2 billion in travel out of the country, much for pleasure though some for business. This was a gain of 11 per cent over 1962.

Admittedly, Mexico and the islands to the south have the advantage of closeness and less expensive transportation cost. But economists at the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York say that equally important have been the efforts made to attract tourists. These include advertising and setting up information centers in the United States, as well as upgrading hotel, dining and transportation facilities.

The bank economists report: "Last year Mexican exports totaled $982 million, while tourism from all countries pulled in some $655 million. This permitted the country to show a $144-million surplus in its over-all balance of payments."

Jamaica is another example. Its total merchandise exports last year came to $26 million, but receipts from U.S. tourists were $40 million.

The economists say Venezuela and Colombia have made some efforts to get in on the gravy, but the rest of South America has done very little.

TODAY IN HISTORY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, Aug. 27, the 240th day of 1964. There are 126 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1776, George Washington's Continental troops were defeated by the British under Lord Howe in the Battle of Long Island. Washington two days later retreated across the East River to New York City.

On this date

In 1915, Gen. John J. Pershing's wife and three daughters were burned to death at the Presidio in San Francisco; only his 5-year-old son escaped.

In 1916, Italy declared war on Germany; Romania declared war on Austria-Hungary.

In 1928, the Kellogg-Briand Treaty to outlaw war was signed by representatives of 15 nations in Paris.

In 1942, the Japanese were driven from the Tulagi area of the Solomon Islands.

In 1943, the British Royal Air Force bombed the German city of Nuremberg.

Ten years ago—An Air Force B36 bomber crashed near Rapid City, S.D., killing 25 of the 27 men aboard.

Five years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower flew from West Germany to London where he was met by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

One year ago — David Fellin and Henry Thorne were pulled to the surface after being trapped for 14 days by a cave-in at a mine at Shepton, Pa.

Set Day-Long Curfew

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Authorities slapped a 24-hour curfew on a 200-square-mile region of Malaysia's mainland today in an effort to trap Indonesian invaders who may have escaped the cordon drawn around their landing zone.

The new curfew area is along the southwest coast of Johore State, north of Pontian where 100 armed raiders reportedly slipped ashore Aug. 17.

Family Supper Plans Revealed By Company No. 3

Plans for the annual family supper, another trip to the World's Fair, and a membership drive were discussed at the monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of Woodstock Fire Company No. 3, meeting at Lake Hill this week.

The family covered dish supper, instituted last year, will be repeated on Saturday evening, Oct. 10, at the firehouse in Lake Hill. The supper is open to all active members of the auxiliary, active members of the fire company, and their families. Each family is requested to bring a covered dish for the supper. Following the supper entertainment is planned.

A second sponsored bus trip to the World's Fair will be held on Saturday, Sept. 26, provided sufficient reservations are received. Any person desiring to visit the Fair on the Auxiliary bus are asked to make reservations with Mrs. Alfred Ostrander, Willow, N. Y.

Membership in the Ladies Auxiliary is now open for the coming year. Active and Supporting memberships are now due, and members of the Auxiliary will be canvassing the communities of Willow, Lake Hill, and Shady for these memberships.

The Ladies Auxiliary recently sponsored the food concession at the annual horse auction at the Rawhide Ranch in Mink Hollow.

Meetings of the Ladies Auxiliary are held the last Tuesday evening of each month at 8 p. m. at the firehouse in Lake Hill. Any woman in the communities of Willow, Lake Hill, or Shady is invited to join the Auxiliary, whether or not a male member of their family is a member of the fire company.

Rotary Barbecue Is Big Success

It takes more than chicken to make a barbecue and it takes more than inclement weather to put a damper on the Woodstock Rotary Club's fund raising project.

Although Saturday afternoon and evening saw much needed rain in the Woodstock area, more than 300 guests enjoyed barbecued chicken, sweet corn, watermelon and all the trimmings that accompany the club's annual chicken fete.

At this week's meeting at Deanie's, the final financial figures were announced and they were highly satisfying. Total expenses were $524.77, the income from ticket sales amounted to $860, for a profit of $335.23. Notwithstanding the weather, it was the most successful chicken western United States and Canada.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS Toss Shrimp Into the Potato Salad

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here's a welcome variation of the picnic potato salad theme—add small canned shrimp. But put the unopened cans in the refrigerator overnight. Before mixing, open and sprinkle generously with lemon juice. Then combine with potato salad.

If the picnic spot is some distance away, put the chilled, rinsed shrimp in a clean jar, squeeze the juice over them and tighten the lid. Take the potatoes and salad dressing in separate containers, too. When everything is ready, toss and serve.

Shrimp and Potato Salad (6 Servings)

2 cans (4½ ounces each) shrimp, chilled
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 clove garlic, cut fine
4 cups cooked, diced potatoes
½ cup chopped green onions
¼ cup minced fresh parsley
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon coarse-ground pepper
1 cup sour cream or mayonnaise

Rinse shrimp with ice water. Drain well; place in a bowl or jar and sprinkle with lemon juice. Crush garlic in a chilled bowl and rub it well around the sides. Add potatoes, onions, parsley and seasonings. When ready to serve, add shrimp. Toss lightly, then combine with dressing.

Injured in Crash

Lynne David, 18, of Far Rockaway, was injured at 3 a. m. today when the car in which she was a passenger went out of control and veered off Mt. Cathalia Road near Ellenville. She was treated at Veterans Memorial Hospital for lacerations of the face and left hand, according to State Police. Maury Leas, 20, of Pennsylvania, driver of the car, told troopers he swerved to avoid hitting a deer on the highway and lost control of the vehicle.

barbecue ever conducted by the Woodstock club.

Show Another Profit

Matty Fuzo, the club vice president, gave another financial report that indicated the Rotarians can even make a profit on a race track venture. A net profit of $51.00 was realized on the Aug. 10 trip to Saratoga Raceway. A bus had been chartered and members and their guests enjoyed a buffet dinner at the clubhouse prior to the races.

Woodstock Rotary contributes scholarships to students in the Ontario school district and also supports several community interests in the Woodstock area.

Several visiting Rotarians were present at Monday's meeting. Included were: Alex Ferguson and Dr. Dale Lake, from Kingston Club; Don Stoly and Lee McGinnis, from the Saugerties club; Henry Middendorf, from Brooklyn; Ernest Marshall, from the Wyoming, Michigan club and George Thompson, a regular visitor to the Woodstock club.

Report Two Teens Missing 2 Days

Reported missing since 11 a. m. Tuesday are two 13-year-old Saugerties youths, Jeffrey Owen and James Sangi. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Owen, 26 Apple Tree Drive and Mrs. Helen Sangi, Washington Avenue.

When last seen Owen was wearing a red shirt and white chino pants. He is described as short, weighing 120 pounds, and having brown eyes, black hair and glasses. Sangi was wearing a black and white shirt and black pants. He is tall, blond and has blue eyes.

The two were last seen on Ulster Avenue after they had just sold a bicycle. Police and state troopers are investigating.

Dutchess Marks 32nd Road Death; Po'keepsie Crash

A 23-year-old father of four was killed early today when his car went out of control in dense fog and crashed into a junk truck in a garage lot on Smith Street, Poughkeepsie.

Edward Williams, 33, salt Point Road, a former high school athlete and attendant at Hudson River State Hospital, was Dutchess County's 32nd traffic fatality of 1964. It was the second auto fatality in the city this year. The death toll in Dutchess for the entire 12 months of 1963 was 30.

According to police investigation, Williams apparently was driving east on Smith Street after 3 a. m., when the car failed to negotiate a curve, continued on a straight course and crashed into the truck in a lot at Gil's Garage, 251 Smith Street.

A nearby resident was awakened by the crash and summoned police. An ambulance interne pronounced Williams dead at the scene.

Dr. William G. Thompson, Rhinebeck, an assistant medical examiner, withheld a verdict pending further investigation by police.

Historical Group To Acquire Land At Huguenot Site

Attempts to acquire land within the historic site area in New Paltz are being made by the board of trustees of the Historical Society of that village.

The land which is south of North Front Street, backing the Huguenot Cemetery and the Hiedgerd property is now under contract to Matt Fasolino. The society recently sent a letter to him and filed a copy of the letter with the village planning board.

The land is needed to round out future development of the Historic Site area. No price has been established. However the board will keep the public informed on further developments.

Floating Gardens

Farmers in Kashmir tend floating gardens anchored on lakes and harvest from boats. They pick tomatoes and pumpkins that grow on a solid but buoyant mass of topsoil, grass and weeds.

Dutchess Marks 32nd Road Death; Po'keepsie Crash

A 23-year-old father of four was killed early today when his car went out of control in dense fog and crashed into a junk truck in a garage lot on Smith Street, Poughkeepsie.

Edward Williams, 33, said Point Road, a former high school athlete and attendant at Hudson River State Hospital, was Dutchess County's 32nd traffic fatality of 1964. It was the second auto fatality in the city this year. The death toll in Dutchess for the entire 12 months of 1963 was 30.

According to police investigation, Williams apparently was driving east on Smith Street after 3 a. m., when the car failed to negotiate a curve, continued on a straight course and crashed into the truck in a lot at Gil's Garage, 251 Smith Street.

A nearby resident was awakened by the crash and summoned police. An ambulance interne pronounced Williams dead at the scene.

Dr. William G. Thompson, Rhinebeck, an assistant medical examiner, withheld a verdict pending further investigation by police.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Diner Fire Alerts All Local Units

A fire in the utility room of the Bourguignon diner at Washington Avenue and Main Street, this morning, quickly extinguished by units of Saugerties Fire Department, was not serious enough to cause the establishment to close.

Mrs. Conrad A. Bourguignon said this morning that the diner will be open for business.

Bourguignon discovered smoke coming from the utility room which houses the air conditioner and heating units, when he opened for business this morning. All Saugerties village companies were alerted. Chief Walter Johnson and Assistant Chief Roy Snyder directed extinguishment procedure at the scene.

The alarm was sounded shortly after 7 a. m. Chief Johnson said the fire apparently started from the outside and could have been caused by the electric wiring for the outside neon lights.

Demos to Honor Leaders Who Died Since Last Parley

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The Democratic party honors the memory tonight of three leaders who died since its last national convention: Sam Rayburn, Eleanor Roosevelt, and John F. Kennedy.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, brother of the late president, will introduce a film that depicts the achievements of Kennedy from his inaugural until his assassination last Nov. 22.

U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson will pay tribute to Mrs. Roosevelt, the widow of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. She died on Nov. 7, 1962.

James A. Farley, former postmaster general and political chieftain during the Roosevelt era, will lead the memorial to Rayburn, the House speaker who died on Nov. 16, 1961.

Diner Fire Alerts All Local Units

A fire in the utility room of the Bourgignion diner at Washington Avenue and Main Street, this morning, quickly extinguished by units of Saugerties Fire Department, was not serious enough to cause the establishment to close.

Mrs. Conrad A. Bourgignion said this morning that the diner will be open for business.

Bourgignion discovered smoke coming from the utility room which houses the air conditioner and heating units, when he opened for business this morning. All Saugerties village companies were alerted. Chief Walter Johnson and Assistant Chief Roy Snyder directed extinguishment procedure at the scene.

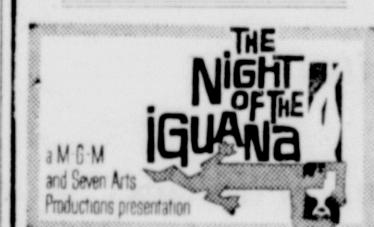

The alarm was sounded shortly after 7 a. m. Chief Johnson said the fire apparently started from the outside and could have been caused by the electric wiring for the outside neon lights.

Likely to Paint Barry Far From Mainstream

Look for Johnson to Claim He's
The Only Man in Hearts of All

By FRANK CORMIER

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson, who often refers to himself as "president of all the people," now wants to be candidate of all the people.

Any attempt to assess the campaign tactics of the just-nominated Democratic standard bearer is apt to founder unless weighed against Johnson's aim to claim the broad middle ground on the political battlefield and appeal to just about everyone.

In his contest with Sen. Barry Goldwater, Johnson will try to picture the Republican presidential nominee as being far removed from the mainstream of American political thought.

As Senate Democratic leader and during nine months as president, he has sought to represent a broad consensus of attitudes on key issues. He made it his stated policy nearly three months ago.

Tells Graduates

Addressing the graduating class at the University of Texas, Johnson said the American people share the same deep desires—for peace, justice and a better life.

"This is the real voice of America," he asserted. "And it is one of the great tasks of political leadership to make our people aware of this voice, aware that they share a fundamental unity of interest and purpose and belief."

This was a prepared-in-advance speech, which added something to the significance of his next words:

"I am going to try and do this. And on the basis of this unity, I intend to try and achieve a broad national consensus which can end obstruction and paralysis, and can liberate the energies of the nation for the work of the future."

However, lest anyone get the idea from this that Johnson plans a nonpartisan campaign, it is well to recall his off-the-cuff remarks at a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Minneapolis, Minn., on June 27.

After All Segments

From the moment he became president last Nov. 22 upon the assassination of John F. Kennedy, Johnson has energetically sought the backing of all segments of the populace.

More than any Democrat in recent decades, Johnson has achieved a signal success in wooing influential business leaders. Henry Ford II is a notable example. This auto magnate never before backed a Democrat for the presidency, but he's backing Johnson.

Any attempt to build a consensus inevitably involves a delicate balancing act — something at which Johnson is an old hand.

But if Johnson now has friends that would have seemed unlikely nine months ago, he also has lost friends.

CR Costs Some Support

Although his steadfast support for the civil rights cause has cost him some support, he is counting on his personal assessment that the ideal of racial justice is supported by the great majority of voters. And he rarely fails to appeal directly to those who resist the idea.

Racial justice is a key goal of Johnson's Great Society which, he says, would bring "abundance and liberty for all."

The Great Society also represents the better life—"a place where every family has a roof over its head, a rug on the floor, a picture on the wall and a little music in the house."

And he is deeply committed to his antipoverty program which Goldwater has labeled a vote-getting scheme.

Much for Debate

There are other Great Society proposals, too, that surely will be debated during the campaign: health insurance for the aged, aid to education, expanded minimum wage coverage; in fact, a broad gamut of social measures. And the Republicans have made it clear that they will be talking about foreign policy.

Greater stress on economy in government is one of the personal touches that Johnson has added to the program he inherited from Kennedy. The poverty program also was fashioned under his direction.

He undertook at least one other major initiative in the domestic field: his efforts, successful against great odds, to avert the threat of a national rail strike last winter.

Yet Johnson has expended most of his energy in behalf of inherited measures: the biggest tax cut in history, the broadest civil rights law in a century and a variety of lesser items.

For the early enactment of these, Johnson can claim much of the credit.

No Significant Fruit Yet

In foreign affairs, Johnson swung into 1964 promising an "unrelenting peace offensive." This has yet to bear significant fruit. At midyear, he spent a lot of time trying to avert war over Cyprus between Greece and Turkey.

And, throughout the year, he wrestled with other crises — and more ominous ones — in Laos and Viet Nam, as well as flare-ups in Panama and Cuba.

Have nine months in the White House changed Lyndon Baines Johnson? There are small signs of change.

Johnson's oft-repeated rallying cry during the early months — "I need your help" — has been muted of late. Whether this reflects a more sure-footed Johnson or simply the passing of a time of national crisis isn't entirely clear.

In one respect, Johnson almost surely has changed. He seems less sensitive to press criticism than was the case earlier in the year.

Johnson's progress has been onward and upward since he first went to Washington in 1931 as secretary to a Texas House member.

And success has followed him

SWEET COMBINATION—Two basic ingredients, a girl and the phlox along the banks of the Potomac River, are combined to produce a world of wonder and beauty. The photo is one 150 on display at the Kodak World's Fair Pavilion. It was taken by a National Geographic Society photographer.

in his private life. He and his family have managed to amass a fortune listed at $3,484,000. The figure comes from a report drawn up at his direction by an accounting firm. Published estimates of the Johnson family fortune have ranged as high as $14 million.

Some Republican campaigners are focusing on these figures. And some of them have been hearkening to Johnson's ties with Bobby Baker, his old friend and onetime protégé whose financial dealings have been castigated by Senate investigators.

Johnson was not born to wealth. And he likes to remind audiences of his modest beginnings. He talks often about being the son of a tenant farmer, usually failing to mention that his father also was a school-teacher and five-term member of the Texas Legislature.

Johnson sees himself as a man of the people who understands their needs and wants and who can lead them into the Promised Land of the Great Society.

Dutchess Resident Dies of Injuries In Aug. 9 Mishap

A 25-year-old Dutchess County man died Tuesday night in Columbia Memorial Hospital, Hudson, of injuries suffered Aug. 9 in a traffic accident on Route 55A in Copake.

Columbia County coroner Robert H. Near Jr., listed the death of Albert Swartz, of Rudd Pond, RD, Millerton, as accidental.

Claverack State Trooper E. W. Konow reported at the time of the accident that Swartz was driving on Empire Road when he failed to negotiate a curve, left the pavement and overturned several times before stopping in a field about 150 feet off the highway.

Two passengers in the car, Daniel F. Murphy and Richard Paul Flint, both of Millerton, escaped serious injury in the mishap.

fact, a broad gamut of social measures. And the Republicans have made it clear that they will be talking about foreign policy.

Greater stress on economy in government is one of the personal touches that Johnson has added to the program he inherited from Kennedy. The poverty program also was fashioned under his direction.

He undertook at least one other major initiative in the domestic field: his efforts, successful against great odds, to avert the threat of a national rail strike last winter.

Yet Johnson has expended most of his energy in behalf of inherited measures: the biggest tax cut in history, the broadest civil rights law in a century and a variety of lesser items.

For the early enactment of these, Johnson can claim much of the credit.

No Significant Fruit Yet

In foreign affairs, Johnson swung into 1964 promising an "unrelenting peace offensive." This has yet to bear significant fruit. At midyear, he spent a lot of time trying to avert war over Cyprus between Greece and Turkey.

And, throughout the year, he wrestled with other crises—in Laos and Viet Nam, as well as flare-ups in Panama and Cuba.

Have nine months in the White House changed Lyndon Baines Johnson? There are small signs of change.

Johnson's oft-repeated rallying cry during the early months—"I need your help"—has been muted of late. Whether this reflects a more sure-footed Johnson or simply the passing of a time of national crisis isn't entirely clear.

In one respect, Johnson almost surely has changed. He seems less sensitive to press criticism than was the case earlier in the year.

Johnson's progress has been onward and upward since he first went to Washington in 1931 as secretary to a Texas House member.

And success has followed him in his private life. He and his family have managed to amass a fortune listed at $3,484,000. The figure comes from a report drawn up at his direction by an accounting firm. Published estimates of the Johnson family fortune have ranged as high as $14 million.

Some Republican campaigners are focusing on these figures. And some of them have been hearkening to Johnson's ties with Bobby Baker, his old friend and onetime protégé whose financial dealings have been castigated by Senate investigators.

Johnson was not born to wealth. And he likes to remind audiences of his modest beginnings. He talks often about being the son of a tenant farmer, usually failing to mention that his father also was a school teacher and five-term member of the Texas Legislature.

Dutchess Resident Dies of Injuries In Aug. 9 Mishap

Columbia County coroner Robert H. Near Jr., listed the death of Albert Swartz, of Rudd Pond, RD, Millerton, as accidental.

Claverack State Trooper E. W. Konow reported at the time of the accident that Swartz was driving on Empire Road when he failed to negotiate a curve, left the pavement and overturned several times before stopping in a field about 150 feet off the highway.

Two passengers in the car, Daniel F. Murphy and Richard Paul Flint, both of Millerton, escaped serious injury in the mishap.

High Holy Days Schedule Set at Ahavath Israel

At a meeting of the ritual committee of Congregation Ahavath Israel this week, the High Holy Days' schedule and program of religious services were formulated.

The first of the Holy Days will be celebrated Saturday night, Aug. 29, with a program of religious music and the Selichot service. Members and friends of Congregation Ahavath Israel are invited to the vestry hall for an informal reception in honor of Rabbi and Mrs. Harry Schechtman, at 10 p. m. Saturday.

After the meeting with the new rabbi and his family there will be a concert of religious music and popular Jewish songs by Cantor Dan Chick, an active teacher, cantor, and youth leader in the Albany area for the past ten years.

There will be a refreshment and social hour after the concert. At midnight the traditional hour of the Selichot prayers the congregation will adjourn to the Synagogue for the formal service, the commencement of the High Holy Days.

The ritual committee has also made plans for Sunday, Sept. 13, at 11 a. m. in the vestry hall for a meeting of all Congregation Ahavath Israel children and youth with their new rabbi. This will be an opportunity for the parents and youth to discuss the congregation's needs for special youth services and children's religious festivities for the Holy Days and the regular Sabbath services.

Robert Schechtman, soon to be ordained as rabbi will be in charge of a separate children and youth's service for Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur in the vestry.

Convention Made Lively as LBJ Calls Humphrey

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Hours before the Democrats gathered to hear the nominating speeches for Lyndon Baines Johnson Wednesday, it seemed to those of us watching on television that somebody had pulled the huge cork that was bottling up the convention.

After two dreary, worried days dampened by the civil rights problems of two states, it suddenly seemed that everybody was, finally, going to be allowed some fun.

The cork-puller was the President of the United States himself who by a mid-afternoon telephone call to Hubert H. Humphrey, perhaps deliberately changed the entire focus of the convention.

Lively Experience
Prepared as we were for President Johnson's selection of the Minnesota senator as his running mate, convention-watching suddenly became a lively experience as the networks switched furiously back and forth between Atlantic City and Washington. And sometimes — as when the President at the Atlantic City airport praised Humphrey's qualifications — the living room audience had the official word before the delegates in the auditorium.

The coverage, by all three networks, of the fast-breaking news events of the day was superb. It started shortly after 3 p.m. outside the Humphrey hotel suite immediately after President Johnson had invited him to come to Washington.

ABC, it seemed, was a minute or so ahead on the break, but the NBC camera caught Humphrey in telling close-up as he said, in a voice tense with excitement: "I don't know — I've just been asked to come and I'm coming — let's cut out of here!"

Waits for While

It was some time later that the President admitted he had made his choice, but we viewers figured the senator was a shoo-in when all the network anchor teams suddenly started calling him "Hubert Horatio Humphrey."

There was infinitely more to watch, including the reception of the first lady and her attractive daughters between rain showers.

Choice of the best coverage team among the three networks is rather like choosing among mayonnaise, French or thousand island dressing for a salad: it is simply a matter of personal taste. They all strove mightily and all did very well in the complicated business of covering all bases.

Fair Visitors See Innovations In Mail System

Visitors to the New York World's Fair from Kingston, have an unusual opportunity to see a post office of the future. Postmaster Newkirk said today.

A carefully-chosen group of 80 employees from New York area post offices man the facility which handles all the Fair's mail and some from the Flushing area. The outside mail is used to keep the highly mechanized devices operating at full tilt.

The post office handles approximately 250,000 pieces of mail each day.

Postcards to friends and relatives back home are a big item. About 30,000 are mailed from the Fair each day. One third of these are addressed to persons overseas.

Foreign visitors have no trouble understanding U. S. postal operations. The facility has staff members who speak 20 languages.

Postmaster Newkirk notes that residents of Kingston who attend the Fair and wish to try out their foreign language ability can either talk with the multilingual window clerks or listen to a tape recorded presentation in the post office lobby which features individual earphones for those who speak Japanese, French, German, Italian and Spanish.

New equipment on hand includes an experimental Pitney-Bowes Centrifeed which spins envelopes rapidly around a wheel-like mechanism and places them upright on their longest side. They then move into a machine which cancels stamps and postmarks at a rate of 500 letters a minute.

Letters are sorted to go all over the world by machines which position the mail so that the addresses are visible to an operator who sits in front of a keyboard similar to that on a typewriter. By pressing the correct buttons, 100 letters a minute are automatically directed to bins for 50 different destinations.

A larger device, the Burroughs sorter, drops letters and cards into 131 different bins at a rate of 58 letters per minute for each of the 12 operators.

The work area is surrounded by a ramp and gallery for visitors which is open from 11 a. m. to 6 p. m., seven days a week. Tape recorded vignettes explain the action on the work floor and describe the operations of each machine.

Outside the building, mail boxes from 21 countries serve as background for the red, white and blue box of the United States.

A prototype stainless steel mail box being tested as an eventual replacement for the standard box used for the past 40 years is located at one of the Fair's busiest intersections.

Postmaster Newkirk suggests that Kingston area visitors to the Fair express their comments on the new box by dropping a note addressed to the Superintendent, World's Fair Post Office through the modernistic mail slot. Postage is not necessary. If they wish, visitors may discuss their reactions with clerks at the post office building.

Charged in Burglary Of Granit Hotel Room

Accused of burglarizing another employee's room while he slept at the Granit Hotel, Accord, Lester R. Abner, 25, of New York City, was taken into custody Wednesday by Ellenville State Police.

Abner waived preliminary examination before Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel, Town of Wawarsing, on a charge of second degree burglary. He was ordered held in the county jail pending grand jury action.

According to State Police, Abner was accused of entering a room occupied by William C. Brophy, a hotel employee, and stealing $11. Abner was employed at the hotel as a dining room porter. BCI Investigator George Dana and Trooper Robert Pinnow made the arrest after they investigated a complaint.

Humphrey Regarded as Man With Energy Matching LBJ's

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Sen. Hubert Humphrey, more than any other Democrat in sight, can match President Johnson in ceaseless energy and working with Congress.

It was hardly a coincidence that Johnson, who Wednesday night told the Democratic convention he wanted the Minnesota senator for his vice presidential running mate, let this be known earlier in the week: If elected, he wants to make more use of his vice president than any president ever did.

Humphrey is a real pro in government. Even the Republican leader of the Senate, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, called him "the most professional of professionals."

Not in South

Humphrey has extremely broad support among Democrats across the country, although not so much in the South which remembers he was the one who led the 1964 Civil Rights bill to passage in Congress.

Last July the Associated Press conducted a nationwide poll among delegates to this convention on their vice presidential preference. Humphrey topped the list.

By waiting until the last minute to reveal his choice of a partner in this year's campaign, Johnson was able to sound out opinion and see what groups wanted him to pick the man to ride with him.

Organized labor backs Humphrey. Negroes trust him. He is a shining figure to liberals. Dirksen called him the "modern liberal," a phrase which may look simple but isn't.

He Compromises

Where some congressional liberals appear inflexible in demands and positions, Humphrey without sacrificing principles is willing to compromise on issues to get at least part of what he urges. He wasn't always that way. When he first came to the Senate in 1949 he was the arch-type of the inflexible liberal, both brash and talkative. He is still talkative. But otherwise there is a difference, as he explained: "If I believe in something, I will fight for it with all I have. But I do not demand all or nothing. Professional liberals want the fiery debate. They glory in defeat, a sort of political masochism."

"The hardest job for a politician today is to have the courage to be moderate. It is easy to take an extreme position."

Other Factors

But, as Johnson himself said some weeks ago, there were also these factors in his choice of a man who would succeed him if he died: "I think we want the person that is equipped to handle the duties of the vice presidency, and the presidency, if that awesome responsibility should ever fall upon him. I would like to see a man that is experienced in foreign relations and domestic affairs."

Humphrey fills the bill on both counts. Before Humphrey, now 53, came to Congress he was state director of war production and training in Minnesota during the war, was an assistant director of the War Manpower Commission, and became mayor of Minneapolis where he set up the first municipal peacetime fair employment practices commission.

Makes 'Inner Club'

When he first came to Congress 15 years ago he antagonized southerners and was treated as an outsider by what is called the Senate "Establishment" but now is a respected member of the "Inner Club."

He and Johnson, both arriving in the Senate in 1949, have been friends since. It was Johnson who got Humphrey on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in 1953. He has been on it since, and steadily active in foreign affairs.

He had an eight-hour interview with Premier Khrushchev in 1958 and brought back one of the earliest indications of the Russians and Red Chinese might split.

No one perhaps deserves more credit for the nuclear test ban agreement signed with the Soviet Union in 1963. He had worked for it for seven years before then, amid great indifference most of the time.

He set up and headed the Senate's disarmament subcommittee and fathered the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. He has traveled abroad and had a particular interest in Latin America.

First for Peace Corps

In 1960 he introduced a bill to establish the Peace Corps months before Sen. John F. Kennedy advanced the idea in the 1960 presidential campaign. Kennedy established the corps after becoming president.

Humphrey has been equally active in domestic problems. The first bill he introduced as a brand new senator was one to provide medical care for the aged through Social Security. He put the same bill in year after year. It's still an unsettled issue but has Johnson's backing.

He has become an advocate of business-government partnership, meeting with board chairmen, corporation presidents, brokers and bankers, which is what Johnson has done, too.

His biggest achievement, perhaps, was getting through Congress this year's civil rights bill, the strongest measure of its kind in this century.

When Johnson signed it into law and addressed the nation about it, he gave Humphrey a copy of his talk and on the back wrote this note: "To Hubert Humphrey — without whom it couldn't have happened."

Eleven Complete Open Expedition Into Adirondacks

Eleven scouts and one leader from Boy Scout Troop 17, sponsored by the Tillson Fire Company recently completed a trip into the Adirondacks including a two and a half day expedition to Mount Marcy.

Food and equipment were back-packed from Adirondack Lodge to Lake Golden via Marcy Dam and Avalanche Pass. Upper trails were in slippery condition, due to the almost daily rains that fell on the region.

In the expedition were James Prandoni, Fred Bordenstein, Ed Goloski, Wayne Waddell, Joseph Abravaya, Sandy Whitman, David Roddy, Brian Waddell, Wayne Debrodsky, Dale Whitman and Joseph Roddy. The troop spent a few days at

The best doctor is the one you run for and can't find.

People call it take-home pay because there is no other place you can afford to go with it.

To America:
To God's scenic masterpiece:
America.

Here's a suggestion for women who want to appear younger: Rent smaller children.

The manager of a millionaire's magnificent estate had sent for a roofer to repair a leak in the roof of the mansion.

Pat Flinn was sent to do the job, and as he entered the front hall the butler, in a subdued voice said:

Butler—You are requested to be careful of the inlaid floors as you go through the halls; they have just been waxed.

Flinn—Oh, sure, there's no danger of me slippin' on them.

I've spikes in me shoes.

As the gambler said of his dice, to love and win is the best thing, to love and lose is the next best.

"I never saw a more industrious woman than that Mrs. Crum," the teacher remarked before the Kentucky mountain boys and girls gathered at the school dinner table. "Why, even when I meet her on the road she pulls her yarn and needles out of her pocket and goes to knitting!"

Teacher's manifestation of surprise brought forth a volley of ejaculations from children, each of whom had a mother, aunt or cousin who was equally ardent at wool-working.

"Oh," exclaimed one little fellow, reaching the climax of the discussion, "I had a grandmother who was the knittiest woman I ever knowed. She used to take her knitting to bed with her, and every few minutes she woke up and threw out a pair o' socks!"

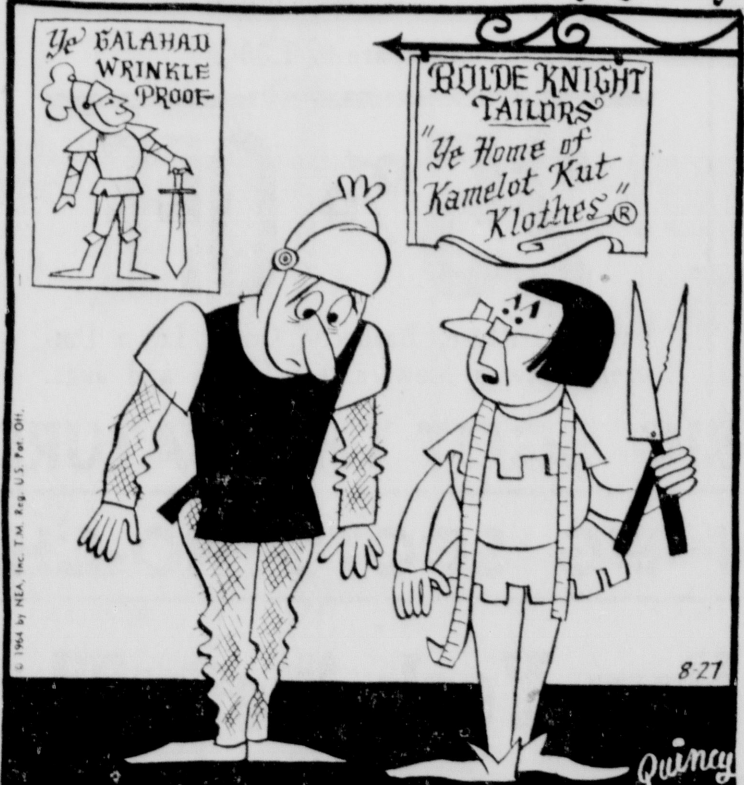

Judge Gruff—Aren't you ashamed to be seen here in court so often?

Prisoner—Why, no your honor; I always thought it was a very respectable place.

The best heart may go wrong in dark hours.

Delegates Follow LBJ to Last Detail

By ARTHUR EDSON
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — To Lyndon B. Johnson even minor political details are to be studied, to be worried about, and, if anything goes wrong, to blow one's stack over.

Never has this been better illustrated than at the Democratic National Convention.

Wednesday night the whooping delegates nominated Johnson by acclamation.

They waited patiently for the word and when it came, they shouted Hubert H. Humphrey in as their choice for vice president.

They avoided floor fights and adopted a platform with scarcely a dissenting voice, something that hasn't been done in at least a generation.

Precisely as Ordered

In short, they did precisely what the political doctor in the White House ordered.

In talking with those who have been deeply involved in this convention, one gets this picture: what happened — or, more importantly, what didn't happen — isn't so much the result of Johnson's busy telephoning as it is of Johnson's careful planning.

A man close to the President used this as an illustration:

When vice presidential boomlets for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy began, Johnson quickly cut him, and a few others, from the running — and thus removed the one man — and the one family — who might have stolen the show from him here.

Put Off for Right Time

Even the tribute to the late President John F. Kennedy was prudently put off until tonight: No use stirring up a lot of emotion until all decisions have been made.

Or take the hottest issue this convention had to face: Which delegation from Mississippi should be seated?

A week ago Saturday Humphrey was in California. While there he talked with such Democratic leaders as Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Sen. Pierre Salinger, Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh and State Controller Alan Cranston about the potentially explosive Mississippi situation.

When he returned to the White House, he reportedly told Johnson: "If this gets to a vote on the floor, we're done. It's too emotional."

The upshot: Humphrey, who helped to split the party in 1948 by leading a civil rights fight, now was to work to soothe everything over.

Runs a Peculiar Shop

Everything was thought of. Atty. Gen. Walter Mondale of Minnesota, one of Humphrey's most loyal followers, just happened to be named head of the subcommittee to handle this problem.

Johnson runs a peculiar shop. He apparently doesn't like titles, and he wants men who are eager to work, and to work in complete anonymity, so there is no clearest division of duties, and Johnson's agents may fan out in all directions, with several of them working on the same problem from different angles.

The Atlantic City White House took form here early, and by the first of this week its switchboard was so jammed you repeatedly got busy signals when you tried to dial it.

Walter Jenkins, a longtime friend and administrative assistant, was chief of staff of the operations.

Often you would hear this phrase: "He talked with the White House about that." This could mean he talked with Johnson; more probably it meant he talked with an assistant.

Complete Planning

Perhaps the most significant thing in all this is how complete the planning was.

Clifton Carter, who looks after endless political details for Johnson, and Richard Maquire, Democratic treasurer, had a series of workshops going this week which in effect laid the groundwork for the fall campaigns.

All 50 states had representatives present who were told how to take advantage of research material worked up by the national committee, how to organize Young Citizens for LBJ, how to provide publicity, how to pep up women's activities, how to encourage citizen groups and how to turn out zippy campaign material.

Carter also has the responsibility of making sure everything runs smoothly in Convention Hall. An elaborate phone system keeps him within instant touch of each delegation.

He was explaining this as he was returning from lunch. Suddenly his coat pocket started to buzz. Carter took out a small radio receiver and switched it off.

"This means I have a call," he said, "I've got to get to a phone."

As you can see, not many bets were overlooked in Atlantic City.

Canada geese are capable of flying at speeds of a mile a minute.

Receives Commission

Major Frank Fabbie, Commanding Officer of the 1st Battalion (105 SP) 156th Artillery, Kingston, New York announces the commissioning of John F. Whitaker as a Second Lieutenant in the Artillery. Lt. Whitaker received his commission through the Empire State Military Academy at Camp Smith, Peekskill and Troy, New York. MR. AND MRS. GEORGE ENG (Lakeside photo)

Rawding-Eng Nuptials Are Announced; Ceremony in Fair Street Reformed Church

Miss Dorothy V. Rawding, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson S. Rawding of Boice Lane, Kingston, exchanged marriage vows with George Eng, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eng of 22 Flatbush Avenue, this city, on August 22 at a 12 o'clock ceremony in the Fair Street Reformed Church.

Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Edwin C. Coon.

The bride was attended by her aunt, Mrs. Louis Bruno of 50 East Chester Street extension, as matron of honor. Other attendants were Miss Penny Thomas of 235 Elmendorf Street, this city, and Mrs. Marvin Miller of Mt. Marzin. Miss Ruth Bruno, cousin of the bride, was flower girl.

Donald Eng of Kingston was best man for his brother. Ushering were George Foster of Wappingers Falls, N. Y., and Arthur Steltz of 82 Abeel Street, this city.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a princess gown of organza fashioned with an Empire bodice, mid-length sleeves and a scooped neckline. The bodice and skirt of the gown featured motifs of re-embroidered Alencon lace. The train of the gown was chapel length and a stylized crown held the bride's shirred triple tiered silk illusion veil. She carried a cascade of white roses with white carnations.

The honor attendant wore hyacinth blue in sheath style with a draped bodice, abbreviated sleeves and bateau neckline. The gown also featured a removable overskirt in floor length and she wore a stylized headpiece of tulle leaves with a circular tulle veil. Her flowers consisted of pink roses and carnations.

The attendants wore gowns identical to that worn by the honor attendant except in romance blue. They carried cascade of white carnations and roses. The flower girl, in romance blue, wore a crown of matching flowers in her hair and carried a princess basket of white carnations and roses.

Approximately 100 guests were received at a reception given in The Capri, Port Ewen. Afterwards the couple left on a wedding trip to New York City. The bride wore an aqua silk dress with white accessories and a corsage of baby orchids.

Mrs. Eng is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of 1960, and is employed as a secretary in the office of local attorney Howard C. St. John. Her husband, an alumnus of Kingston High School, class of 1959, is associated with his father in the operation of Eng's Tea Garden. He is also a member of the National Guard, 1st Howitzer Battalion, 156th Field Artillery.

Mr. and Mrs. Eng will be at home at Parkcrest Road, Parkcrest Estates, Rosendale, N. Y.

RUDE OF GUEST TO TURN ON TV

Q: Last evening I invited two couples in to dinner. After dinner as we were sitting in the living room talking, one of the men asked if he could turn on the television set to watch the ball game. Not wishing to be rude, I said he could turn it on. The men immediately gathered in front of the set and the women sat in a corner trying to talk. I was very annoyed. How should I refuse a guest permission to turn on the television set?

A: It was very ill-mannered of your guest to ask to turn on the television set and you could have explained that you were very sorry but you have made it a practice never to turn on the television when guests are present.

Light Blue Dinner Jackets

Q: I am going to be married in a few weeks at an evening wedding. I would like to know if it would be in good taste for the men in the wedding party to wear light blue dinner jackets instead of black ones which I think are so very drab.

A: I'm sorry, but light blue dinner jackets would not be in good taste at a wedding.

Q: I was just married. We had a big wedding and I received many wedding presents. I have been told that as soon as I am settled, I am to invite to my house all those who sent presents (a few at a time, of

We the Women

BY RUTH MILLET

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

'My wife is neat as a pin about herself and she keeps the kids looking whistle clean, but she hates housework and fusses about it all the time. We can't afford a maid so I don't know what to tell her when she complains.'

There must be a lot of husbands who feel as helpless as the man who wrote me that letter.

They fall in love with a girl who seems as eager for marriage as they are and who do not seem to have any qualms about taking on the job of homemaker.

And then they found out she hates the job.

There isn't much the husband in such a situation can do except try to help his wife grow up a little.

After all, chances are he isn't overjoyed each morning at the prospect of going to the office and turning out a day's work. He does it because it's his job to provide money to maintain the marriage.

And a housewife ought to look at her job in the same realistic fashion. Much of housework is pure drudgery as any honest woman will admit.

But the drudgery has to be done by someone—and the someone is the wife.

By taking on the drudgery along with the more challenging and satisfying part of homemaking she is doing her part to maintain the marriage.

So it is pretty childish of her to decide she hates the job and to try to make her husband feel guilty for pushing it off on her.

When a wife hates housework, her husband should remind her that his job is no bed of roses either. But, more important, he should let her know that he appreciates her efforts. Any job can be more pleasant when it gets some recognition.

Higher Red Meat Prices Make Poultry Best Buy for Nation's Weekend Shoppers

Rising red meat prices and lower poultry prices will send many shoppers to chicken and turkey displays at the nation's groceries this weekend.

One national chain offers roasting chickens at 39 cents a pound in its New York area stores. Broiler-fryers are also widely featured.

Turkeys, with production higher and bigger birds especially attractive in price, are another popular feature.

Meat prices, especially choice beef, have risen in recent weeks. One chain's quotation for rib roasts climbing from 69 cents at the beginning of the month of 85 cents this weekend.

On the West Coast, wholesale prices of beef ribs are up about 3 cents from a week ago. Mid-western-retail markets also are tagging many beef cuts higher.

This weekend's retail prices may be reflecting, in addition to a recent upward trend, the effects of a program by the National Farmers Organization to withhold cattle and hogs from market in a move designed to boost prices.

Chief beef features this weekend include chuck and rump roasts, boneless pot roasts, ground beef and stew meat. One national chain offers top or bottom round, sirloin, rib and rump roasts all at 89 cents a pound in the Northeast.

Among pork attractions, leaders include chops, spareribs, loin roasts, sausage, butts and hams.

Dry weather in many areas has had some effect on fresh vegetable but supplies are nonetheless ample. Included on the good buy list are cabbage, carrots, celery, corn eggplant, lettuce, onions, peppers, potatoes, squash, sweet potatoes and tomatoes.

Regional vegetable attractions include Lima beans, beets, broccoli, radishes, eggplant, artichokes, peas and cauliflower. Fruit counter features include apples, bananas, cantaloupes, grapes, honeydew melons, nectarines, peaches, plums and limes.

USMA Band Concert This Sunday at 7:

The USMA Band under the direction of Lt. Col. William H. Schempf will present its final concert of the 1964 summer series on Sunday, Aug. 30, at 7 p. m. in the Trophy Point Amphitheatre.

The Band will have as its guest artist the noted cornet soloist, teacher and composer, James Burke. Mr. Burke will play Walter Roger's "Columbian Fantasy" and "La Virgin di la Macarena."

The Band will play the overture to Rossini's opera "Italian in Algiers," the ballet music from Leo Delibes' "Coppelia," and Ambroise Thomas' overture "Mignon." For pop-music lovers a highlight of the concert will be the playing of three selections by the Academy Award winning Henri Mancini: "The Baby Elephant Walk" from the TV program "Peter Gunn," and his most famous melody, "Moon River" from "Breakfast at Tiffany's."

Admission to the concert is free and the public is cordially invited to attend. In the event of inclement weather the program will be cancelled.

THE CLOTHES POLL

Who Wears the Pants?

BY HELEN HENNESSY
Newspaper Enterprise
Women's Editor

News from Red China rarely concerns fashion. But since the closing of the Paris collections, everyone seems to have a word to say on the subject of pants for women — even Peking's official newspaper.

The editors upheld the decision of a dressmaking shop whose personnel refused the request of a customer to make the legs of her slacks narrow. They called tight pants "bizarre."

If the customer in question was a buxom lass, the decision was wise enough to have come from Confucius.

There are women who will wear anything as long as it is ballyhooed as the latest fashion. They must pop on rose-tinted specks before they look into a mirror.

This year, pants of all types and lengths will be seen everywhere except in church. And that will be too bad unless the wearers are under size 12. Pants of any type just aren't chic on heavy women.

Schedule Exam For Steno in School District

An open-competitive examination for senior stenographer, Ulster County and Ulster County school districts, has been called by the Ulster County Civil Service Commission. The last date for filing applications will be Sept. 9 and the examination will be held on October 10. Information regarding the examination as well as application forms may be obtained from the Ulster County Civil Service Commission, Thomas Bohan, Executive Secretary, UPO Box 172, 4 Hurley Avenue, Kingston.

The salary range in the Ulster County departments and offices is from $3360 to $3960 and the salaries in the school districts vary according to the school district.

The resulting list will be used to fill future vacancies in the Ulster County Departments and offices and school districts under Ulster County jurisdiction, excluding the Kingston Schools of the Consolidated District.

For the county positions a candidate must have been a legal resident of Ulster County for at least four months immediately preceding the date of the examination.

School Time Is Shopping Time Everywhere For Teenagers; Buyer Lists Preferences

When it comes to attractive young folks, the Pied Piper was a piker compared to the back-to-school wardrobes and accessories featured by local stores these days.

Clothing, school supplies, records, cosmetics and jewelry will be among the big attractions for a record-breaking 48 and one-half million young people who will follow the school bells, but who will first cause cash registers across the country to ring to the tune of about $179.98 per family.

"Teenagers usually have the last word as to what's purchased," according to Anne Winfield, home adviser for a leading five and dime store, who has surveyed the buying habits of the nation's young people in its 2,117 stores throughout the nation.

Miss Winfield's studies show that high school and college students have, on the average, approximately $451.30 of their "own" money to spend during the year. Flush from summer jobs and in many cases given good cash allowances by their families they will spend much of this amount during the back-to-school migration, she added.

Teenagers love to browse in stores during spare time and often between classes, and regardless of whose money they are spending they like to make their own decisions. Miss Winfield noted. Since they have a strong desire to be accepted by their peers, they are strongly influenced by fads, she said.

What will the teenage preferences be this year? Here's what Miss Winfield thinks: All signs point toward the well-groomed, well-scrubbed, neat look. Befitting this trend is the new Chelsea styling in apparel, described as young, bouncy and snappy. Some of the items of clothing that have this identification mark are jumpers with the long V neckline, the new Italian knit sweaters, plaid skirts, stretch pants, turtle-neck sweaters, textured hose — knee hi's and over-the-knee — reptile purses and boots in all heights.

Girls might select items such as over-the-shoulder bags, beat-nits, petti-pants, bells, chapel hats — mantillas for dress or church — and the ever-important hairdryer for a favorite hard and scarf to protect it from the wind. And for the girls who enjoy making their own costumes there are knitting and crocheting yarns and equipment. For the boys, more colorful sport shirts with subdued slacks and a cloth belt.

Many teenagers — both boys and girls — will select a type-writer (some schools require that homework by typed) and simple brief case of dark colored plastic, to carry their homework to and from school. Gold probably will be the favorite color for accessories this year. The girls will wear gold bracelets, earrings, necklaces and pins of unique shapes; the boys, gold cuff links, tie clasps, belt buckles and pocket watches held by a gold chain.

Chances are, many other items will capture the teenagers' fancy, and they will make purchases in great volumes.

When shopping, this much is certain — the teenagers will make up their own minds.

Chic Chat

Q: "My young niece who lives with me just bought two dresses that end at least an inch above her knee. I told her they were too short but she insists they are in style. Is this true? I'm too old at 70 to pay attention to fashion, but I don't think these dresses are modest."—Mrs. J. T.

Dear Mrs. J. T. — Your niece is right. All the new fashions for both young people and adults are short. Most have full skirts though, and don't hike up too far for modesty when one sits. No one is too old to be interested in fashion. If you can't get out to the stores, you should look through the fashion news in newspapers and magazines. You'll feel younger and have more rapport with your young charge.

Please send your fashion problems to Helen Hennessy in care of this paper. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Pete Zeeh Captures Singles, Also Shares in Doubles Title

MIXED DOUBLES: Richard Smith and Mrs. A. J. (Rose) Boyd were runnersup to Gordon Krajna and Miss Kathy Boyd in the finals of the Mixed Doubles division of the Kingston City Tennis Tournament.

Zeeh's wide ranging arsenal of accurate defensive and offensive shots brought him a spectacular straight set victory over Richard Smith in the singles finals, 7-5 and 8-6. He then teamed with Krajna to defeat Smith and Dick Little, 6-2, 6-2, for the doubles title.

The singles finale between Zeeh and Smith was described by observers as one of the most exciting matches played in the tournament in many years. Smith was hitting his forehand crisp and deep and placing his backhand cross court shots beautifully. However, Zeeh's anticipation and fast court action coupled with his brilliant repertoire were the deciding factors.

Overpowering Play
In the doubles finals, Zeeh and Krajna made their points through extremely accurate deep lob shots and effective cross court shots from net position. Smith and Little were hitting their shots firm and with good placement but their opponents were just too overpowering on this day.

Krajna shared his second tournament title when he teamed with Miss Kathy Boyd to capture the Mixed Doubles, 6-3, 6-4, over the team of Richard Smith and Mrs. A. J. (Rose) Boyd. Both girls found themselves in fast company with their partners hitting hard, accurate shots from different angles of the court. But both defended their positions nicely and made a number of good offensive sallies to bolster their team's scores.

Lahr Is Named Best Competitor

NEW YORK (AP) — Dean Lahr, NCAA champion from the University of Colorado, was named outstanding competitor in the U.S. Olympic freestyle wrestling trials which concluded a three-day 378-bout program Wednesday night at the World's Fair.

Lahr clinched the vote of the judges by scoring an easy decision over Charlie Tribble of San Bernardino, Calif., to finish first in the 171.5-pound class.

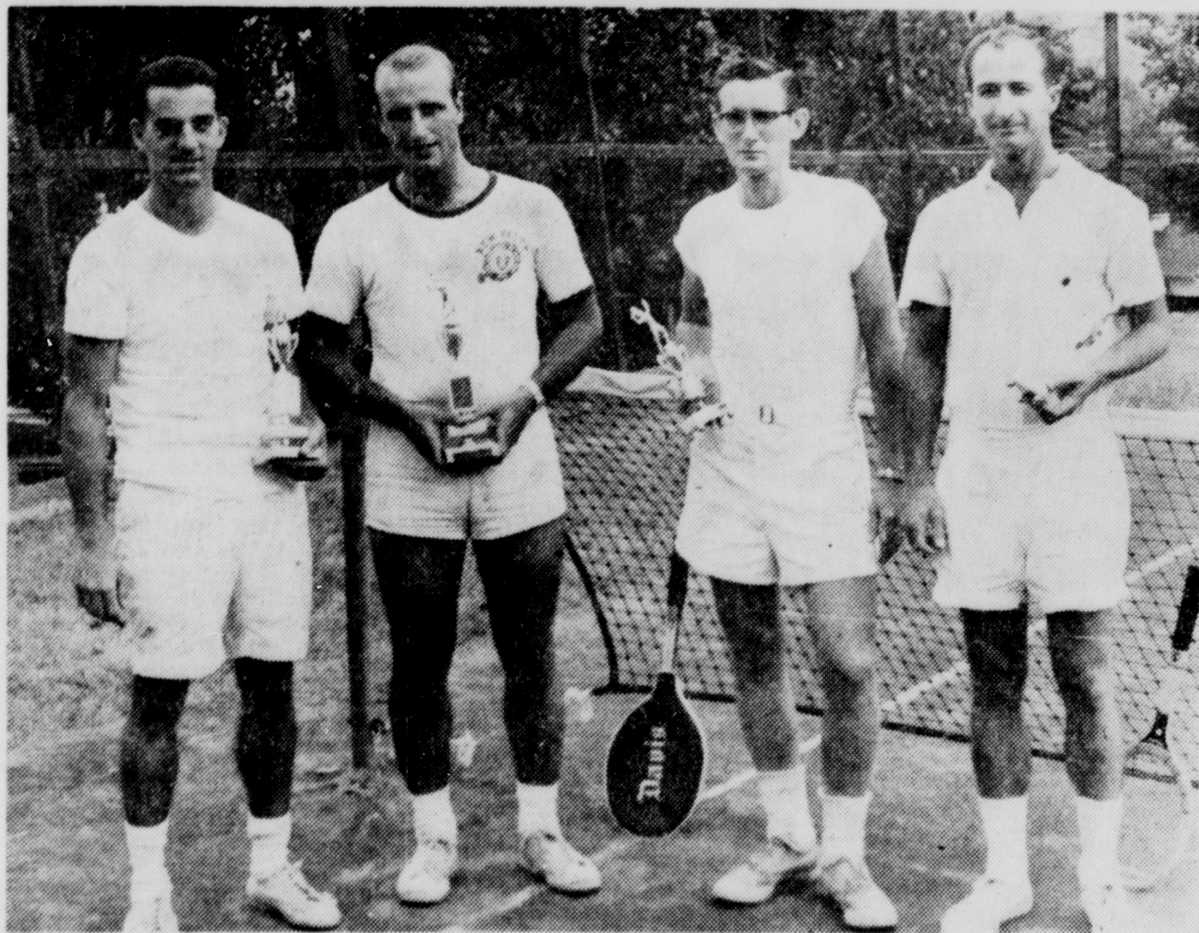

Dave Auble of Ithaca, N.Y., who missed out on the 1960 squad after winning the trials, finished on top in the 125.5-pound class Wednesday night by outpointing Carmen Molina of Ontario, N.Y.

Sixth Round
114.5 pounds — Simons pinned Charlie Bush, Windsor, N.Y., 1:38.

Final Round
125.5 pounds — Molina pinned Larry Lauchle, U.S. Marines, Muncie, Pa. 6:48.
191.5 pounds — Harry Houska, Parma, Ohio, outpointed Mike Wittenberg, New York City.

Yesterday's Stars
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PITCHING — Buster Narum, Senators, shut out the New York Yankees 2-0 on five hits and now has hurled the only two shutouts by Washington pitchers this season.

BATTING — Gus Triandos, Phillies, slammed two homers as National League leading Philadelphia belted Milwaukee 6-1.

Tie for First Place Olympic Exercise Honor

KINGS POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Makoto Sakamoto, 17-year-old National AAU champion from Highland Falls, N.Y., and Grego Weiss of Ridgefield, N.J., tied for the lead Wednesday in the compulsory exercises in the Olympic Gymnastic Trials at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy Wednesday night.

Each scored 57.70 points for the six events. The optional exercises will be held Friday.

Weiss took top honors in the floor exercise with 9.75 and the parallel bar with 9.80 and tied with Sakamoto and Abie Grossfeld of New Haven, Conn., in the rings with 9.55. Sakamoto didn't score lower than 9.55 in any of the six events.

Beatle Piersall Fails To Impress Umpire

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jimmy Piersall of the Los Angeles Angels gave Kansas City a preview of the Beatles Wednesday night.

As he strolled to the plate to bat, Piersall was wearing a Beatle wig.

Plate Umpire Frank Umont then held a small conference with the Los Angeles outfielder, and Piersall batted without the hairpiece.

But Alvin Dark Says He'll Pitch Sunday Contest

By MIKE RATHET

The San Francisco Giants have to be in trouble when Juan Marichal threatens to strike and Willie Mays starts moonlighting.

Mays tried to hold down two jobs for the Giants Wednesday night, shuttling between center field and third base in a 2-1 loss to the Los Angeles Dodgers that dropped San Francisco 7½ games behind National League-leading Philadelphia.

But the big labor dispute revolved around Marichal, the ace right-hander of the Giants' staff who hoisted his placard and said he won't pitch before he feels he's ready.

"I don't want to take any chances, any more," said Marichal, who has been bothered by a bad back, but made his first start since July 29 against the Dodgers Tuesday night. Marichal, who pitched five innings, said he didn't think he was ready to go, then added:

Dark Admired
"They wanted me to pitch. I'll tell you this: If it's still the same the next time, I won't pitch."

Manager Al Dark's comment was concise.

Where Mays will play is another question.

He started in center field against the Dodgers, but had to take over at third base in the second inning after Jim Ray Hart was struck in the head by a thrown ball while running from first base to second and was forced to leave the game.

Mays, who also has played first for the Giants this season, moved back to center field in the seventh inning, then returned to the infield again in the ninth as Dark constantly juggled his line-up in an attempt to get the Giants moving against Don Drysdale.

Drysdale, however, checked San Francisco on seven hits and came up the winner on Doug Camilli's run-producing single in the ninth.

Phil's Rout Braves
The Phillies, meanwhile, rode Chris Short's six-hit pitching to a 6-1 victory over Milwaukee and built their bulge over second-place Cincinnati to seven games. The Reds were beaten by the New York Mets and Tracy Stallard's five-hit pitching, 3-1.

Elsewhere, Larry Jackson posted his 16th victory for St. Louis with a six-hit, 3-1 triumph over Houston and rookie Mike Cuellar posted the first complete game of his major league career in St. Louis' 4-2 victory over Pittsburgh.

The Dodgers won it in the ninth from Drysdale on a single by Frank Howard, a ground out and an intentional walk to Nate Oliver that brought up Camilli. Camilli blooped a single to center giving Drysdale a 14-13 record while tagging Bob Hendley with the loss.

ERA Now 1.70
Short, bringing his record to 14-6 while lowering his earned run average to 1.70, snapped the Phillies out of their first two-game losing streak since July 26 with the support of four homers — two by Gus Triandos and one each by Ruben Amaro and Tony Gonzalez. Short was touched for a run in the ninth on a double by Joe Torre and Denny Menke's single.

Stallard, now 8-16, checked the Reds on four singles until Don Pavletich ruined his shut-out bid with a seventh inning homer. Ed Kranepool drove in two of the Mets runs off Joey Jay, 9-9, with a fourth inning single and a sixth inning sacrifice fly. Ron Hunt drove in the final run with a seventh inning single.

Jackson, 16-10, kept the Colts from becoming the first NL team this season to win seven straight, losing his shutout on Nellie Fox' run-producing single in the sixth. Jackson received home run support from Ernie Banks, who hit his 16th, and Ron Santo, who connected for No. 25.

May Fracas With Ump Gives Bauer the Chills

BALTIMORE (AP) — But for the interjection of a veteran umpire, Baltimore's Hank Bauer, a top candidate for Manager of the Year honors, might be on the outside looking in today. He came perilously close to facing a lengthy banishment.

The incident took place May 22 in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium during a game between the Orioles and Minnesota Twins.

Bauer became embroiled in a heated argument with plate umpire Al Salerno over a bean-ball incident.

"It was a case of two hot heads getting together," Bauer recalled. "I blew my top and called him every name I could think of. If Hank Soar, the senior umpire, hadn't stepped in, I'm sure I would have hit Salerno and probably been suspended for the rest of the year. The next day I thanked Soar."

Salerno Victim
The gravel-voiced Bauer looks every inch the Marine sergeant he was during World War II but despite his reputation for toughness, he is a gentle, easy-to-approach fellow. He's only been ejected twice this year, both times by Salerno.

"As a rule, I don't argue much with umpires," said the 42-year-old Bauer. "I never gave them any trouble as a player. But a manager has to protect his players. Otherwise he might as well remain in the clubhouse."

Bauer was once described as having a face that resembles a clenched fist. He smiles when he's reminded of it.

"I know I've got that reputation," he said, "but really I'm a nice guy. When I took this job, I was told, 'Be tough, be mean. These guys need discipline.'"

"Actually I haven't had to be mean or tough. I've had no trouble all year. They've been real good. They've been hustling from the first day."

Bauer makes no pretensions about being a masterminding genius.

"I believe in letting the players play the game," he said. "I think the worst thing in the world is over-managing. I believe in relegating authority to the coaches. Even to some players. For example, Luis Aparicio."

Feature Race To Golden Norm
MONTICELLO — Golden Norm came roaring down the stretch in the final 50 yards and nipped odds-on-favorite Hiawatha Hanover by a nose to win tonight feature race, a $1,500 pace for two-year-old pacers at Monticello Raceway.

Lucien Fontaine pulled the Knight Star colt away from the rail at the top of the stretch and he just managed to nip Hiawatha Hanover, which had led from the start.

Sent off at 3-1 odds, the winner, in picking up his second straight triumph, paid $8.40, $3.50 and $2.90. Hiawatha Hanover returned $2.70 and $2.50 while Run Punch finished third for a mutual of $3.50.

Outsiders Linda's Joy ($10.40) and Os Calcs ($21.80) combined for a $78.00 daily double. The winning combination was 5-5.

Kuharich Is High On Rookie Brown

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Ebb Brown is a rich young man of 22, who stands 6 feet, 4½ inches, weighs 280 pounds, is working for his masters degree and wants to be an administrator in education someday.

At the moment he's using his tremendous physical stature as an offensive tackle for the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Eagles' Coach Joe Kuharich describes his giant lineman as the kind of a rookie a club gets "once every 10-years."

"He has the physical attributes, the brains and the attitude to make it big," says the coach.

The well-spoken Cleveland native has ideas as big as his size. A dedicated athlete, he is concerned not so much with making the team, but with eventually attaining all-star status in the NFL.

The Eagles from Kuharich on down feel Brown is not setting his sights too high. The club showed its confidence in the Nebraska All-American when it drafted him No. 1, and then gave him a reported $100,000 deal to choose the NFL over the American Football League.

Brown does a lot of weight lifting, but curiously enough, not for physical development but for mental conditioning.

"I find that lifting 100-pound weights gives me a psychological lift," he explained. "When I face a big lineman I say to myself, 'If I can lift a 100-pound weight over my head, I can handle him.'"

What must have happened was that there was an accident on the track and old Rod was the only horse to finish. The chances of this happening are so slight as to make it highly improbable — but not impossible. And, so long as one horse crosses the finish wire, the race is official.

The winner collects all purses and the fans who bet on him to win, place or show collect all the money. Those are the rules, as laid down by the State Harness Racing Commission. There isn't a thing the judges or track can do about it. You'll probably never see a race like that, but you'll see plenty of great racing at MONTICELLO RACEWAY. # Pete Zeeh Captures Singles, Also Shares in Doubles Title

MIXED DOUBLES: Richard Smith and Mrs. A. J. (Rose) Boyd were runners-up to Gordon Krajna and Miss Kathy Boyd in the finals of the Mixed Doubles division of the Kingston City Tennis Tournament.

Pete Zeeh is the new Kingston City Tennis Tournament singles champion and also shares the doubles crown with Gordon Krajna, an ex-singles champion on his own.

Zeeh's wide ranging arsenal of accurate defensive and offensive shots brought him a spectacular straight set victory over Richard Smith in the singles finals 7-5 and 8-6. He then teamed with Krajna to defeat Smith and Dick Little, 6-2, 6-2, for the doubles title.

The singles finale between Zeeh and Smith was described by observers as one of the most exciting matches played in the tournament in many years. Smith was hitting his forehand crisp and deep and placing his backhand cross court shots beautifully. However, Zeeh's anticipation and fast court action coupled with his brilliant repertoire were the deciding factors.

Overpowering Play
In the doubles finals, Zeeh and Krajna made their points through extremely accurate deep lob shots and effective cross court shots from net position. Smith and Little were hitting their shots firm and with good placement but their opponents were just too overpowering on this day.

Krajna shared his second tournament title when he teamed with Miss Kathy Boyd to capture the Mixed Doubles, 6-3, 6-4, over the team of Richard Smith and Mrs. A. J. (Rose) Boyd.
Both girls found themselves in close company with their partners hitting hard, accurate shots from different angles of the court. But both defended their positions nicely and made a number of good offensive rallies to bolster their team's scores.

Lahr Is Named Best Competitor

NEW YORK (AP) — Dean Lahr, NCAA champion from the University of Colorado, was named outstanding competitor in the U.S. Olympic freestyle wrestling trials which concluded a three-day 378-pound program Wednesday night at the World's Fair.

Lahr clinched the vote of the judges by scoring an easy decision over Charlie Tribble of San Bernardino, Calif., to finish first in the 171.5-pound class.

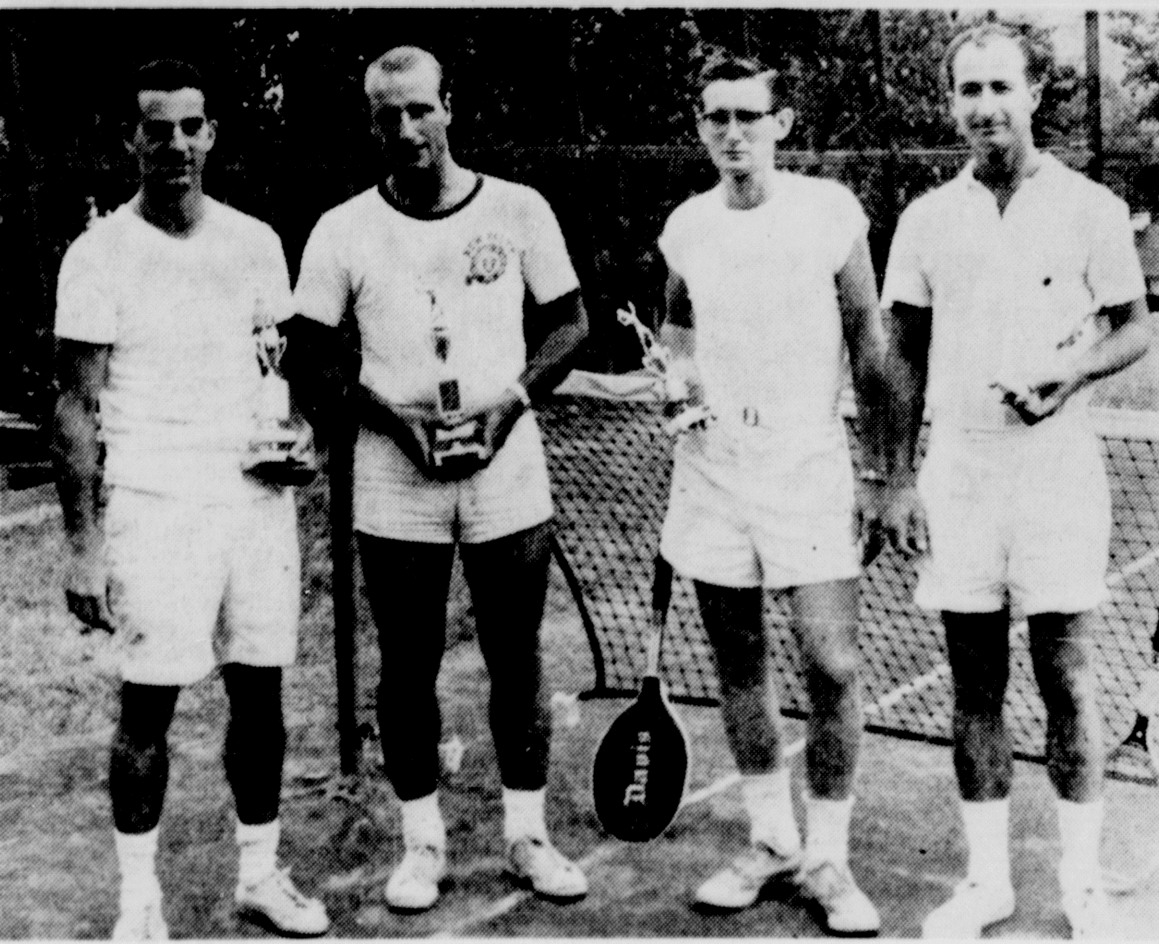

Dave Auble of Ithaca, N.Y., who missed out on the 1960 squad after winning the trials, finished on top in the 125.5-pound class Wednesday night by outpointing Carmen Molina of Ontario, N.Y.

Sixth Round
114.5 pounds — Simons pinned Charlie Bush, Windsor, N.Y., 1:18.

Final Round
125.5 pounds — Molina pinned Larry Lauchle, U.S. Marines, Marcy, Pa., 6:48.
191.5 pounds — Harry Houska, Parma, Ohio, outpointed Mike Wittenberg, New York City.

Yesterday's Stars
PITCHING — Buster Narum, Senators, shut out the New York Yankees 2-0 on five hits and now has hurled the only two shutouts by Washington pitchers this season.

BATTING — Gus Triandos, Phillies, slammed two homers as National League leading Philadelphia belted Milwaukee 6-1.

Salerno Victim
The gravel-voiced Bauer looks every inch the Marine sergeant he was during World War II but despite his reputation for toughness, he is a gentle, easy-to-approach fellow. He's only been ejected twice this year, both times by Salerno.

"As a rule, I don't argue much with umpires," said the 42-year-old Bauer. "I never gave them any trouble as a player. But a manager has to protect his players. Otherwise he might as well remain in the clubhouse."

Bauer was once described as having a face that resembles a clenched fist. He smiles when he's reminded of it.

"I know I've got that reputation," he said, "but really I'm a nice guy. When I took this job, I was told, 'Be tough, be mean. These guys need discipline.'"

"Actually I haven't had to be mean or tough. I've had no trouble all year. They've been real good. They've been hustling from the first day."

Bauer makes no pretensions about being a masterminding genius.

"I believe in letting the players play the game," he said. "I think the worst thing in the world is over-managing. I believe in relegating authority to the coaches. Even to some players. For example, Luis Aparicio."

Feature Race To Golden Norm

MONTICELLO — Golden Norm came roaring down the stretch in the final 50 yards and nipped odds-on-favorite Hiawatha Hanover by a nose to win tonight feature race, a $1,500 pace for two-year-old pacers at Monticello Raceway.

Lucien Fontaine pulled the Knight Star colt away from the rail at the top of the stretch and he just managed to nip Hiawatha Hanover, which had led from the start.

Sent off at 3-1 odds, the winner, in picking up his second straight triumph, paid $8.40, $3.50 and $2.90. Hiawatha Hanover returned $2.70 and $2.50 while Rum Punch finished third for a mutual of $3.50.

Outsiders Linda's Joy ($10.40) and Os Calcis ($21.80) combined for a $78.00 daily double. The winning combination was 5-5.

Kuharich Is High On Rookie Brown

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

CERRY HILL, N.J. (AP) — Bob Brown is a rich young man of 22, who stands 6 feet, 4½ inches, weighs 280 pounds, is working for his masters degree and wants to be an administrator in education someday.

At the moment he's using his tremendous physical stature as an offensive tackle for the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

Eagles' Coach Joe Kuharich describes his giant lineman as the kind of a rookie a club gets "once every 10 years."

"He has the physical attributes, the brains and the attitude to make it big," says the coach.

The well-spoken Cleveland native has ideas as big as his size. A dedicated athlete, he is concerned not so much with making the team, but with eventually attaining all-star status in the NFL.

The Eagles from Kuharich on down feel Brown is not setting his sights too high. The club showed its confidence in the Nebraska All-American when it drafted him No. 1, and then gave him a reported $100,000 deal to choose the NFL over the American Football League.

Brown does a lot of weight lifting, but curiously enough, not for physical development but mental conditioning.

"I find that lifting 100-pound weights gives me a psychological lift," he explained. "When I face a big lineman I say to myself, 'if I can lift a 100-pound weight over my head, I can handle him.'"

Too Much Money
Is Ruining Golf
Says Ben Hogan

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — High finance on the pro tour has dulled the incentive of many golfers and turned them into parasites, Ben Hogan said today.

"It's not a matter of the big purses but the way the money is distributed," the four-time National Open winner said. "A fellow doesn't have to work on his game any more. All he has to do is show up for a tournament. He can finish far down the list, pick up a pretty good paycheck and make a comfortable living on the efforts of others."

"The money distribution system is all wrong. The big money should go the leaders, the fellows such as Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Ken Venturi who are out there always struggling to improve their game. The couldn't-care-less fellows should get little or nothing."

Hogan, now 52 and returning to the Oakland Hills scene where he won the third of his Opens 13 years ago, failed to specify a particular tournament but he virtually drew a map of the $200,000 Carling World Championship, beginning here today.

The sport's richest event has a prize list scaled down from $35,000 for first and $17,000 for second to $10,000-and-over for 36 places. Each of the 155 players teeing off, 48 of them from 13 foreign nations, is assured $400.

All the name players of the world are entered here, with Nicklaus bidding to nail down his position as the year's leading money winner ($99,000-plus) and Palmer, No. 2, and British Open champion Tony Lama, No. 3, in a position to take over the title.

Venturi, the National Open champion, is playing so superbly and with such confidence he has been made the No. 1 favorite.

Indians Do It Again

8th Inning Blues For Orioles

Cleveland Rally
Again Jolts the League Leaders

By MURRAY CHASS

The Baltimore Orioles will be lucky if they can get out of the Cleveland Indians' eighth inning with the American League pennant.

The Indians edged the first-place Orioles 3-2 Wednesday night, scoring two runs in the eighth inning for the victory. The loss, coupled with Chicago's 2-1, 12-inning triumph over Minnesota, sliced Baltimore's lead to one percentage point over the second-place White Sox.

The victory, the Indians' sixth straight, increased their season edge over Baltimore to 10-5, making them the only team to hold an edge over the league leaders.

More specifically, though, the Indians have won five of the last six games with Baltimore in the eighth inning. A five-run outburst in the eighth Tuesday night brought Cleveland a 5-3 decision.

Wednesday night's game was led 1-1 going into the eighth. Slow-footed John Romano sent the tie-breaking run across with a two-out, two-strike bunt single, a surprise move he pulled on his own. Vic Davallio followed with a run-scoring double.

A Rare Play

Explaining the rare squeeze bunt, Romano said: "I can't hit (relief pitcher Stu) Miller anyway, so I had to do something."

Baltimore Manager Hank Bauer, however, didn't have any explanation for the Indians' eighth-inning tactics.

Elsewhere in the AL, Washington blanked New York 2-0, Detroit defeated Boston 4-1 and Los Angeles knocked off Kansas City 5-2.

Norm Siebern slammed a homer for the Orioles in the eighth, but they couldn't do any more scoring. A walk and singles by Earl Robinson and Russ Snyder had given Baltimore a 1-1 tie in the sixth and set the stage for the eighth-inning rally.

Don Buford singled home Gerry McNertney with Chicago's winning run in the 12th. McNertney led off the inning by reaching second base on a wild throw to first by the Twins' Rich Rollins. McNertney went to third on a passed ball and two walks later, trotted home. Ed Fisher pitched the last three innings, holding the Twins hitless for his sixth victory in eight decisions.

Stoltz's First Loss

The Yankees remained four games off the pace as Buster Narum stopped them on five hits. He outpitched Mel Stottlemyre, who lost his first game after winning three. The Senators scored both runs in the fifth, Mike Brumley coming home with the first one on an infield grounder.

The Tigers' Dave Wickersham recorded his 15th victory in 25 decisions, hurling a five-hitter against the Red Sox. Don Demeter started a two-run rally in the sixth with a homer while Jerry Lumpe did the same in the seventh. Demeter's homer halted Bob Heffner's scoreless-inning string at 19-1-3.

Dick Green and Rocky Colavito clouted solo homers for the Athletics, but they weren't enough to offset the Angels' attack. Los Angeles scored three times in the fourth, the runs coming home on singles by Lou Clinton and Jim Perry and Bob Rodgers' sacrifice fly.

Youngsters Try To Imitate Dads Without Rules

By GORDON BEARD

Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — It was a difficult night for John Powell.

In the Baltimore clubhouse, John had to be assisted into his Oriole uniform. On the way to the plate, he tripped over the bats and tumbled into the dirt.

Then, when he balked at running, John was lifted up by his left arm and assisted to first base.

Baltimore fans roared their approval, because it wasn't really unorthodox behavior after all. The player was John (Little Boog) Powell, son of the Oriole slugger.

While his daddy is the biggest Oriole at 235 pounds, 18-month-old Little Boog was the smallest player in the Wednesday night game featuring the sons of Oriole players — 27 pounds and 2 feet 6.

The youngsters ranged in age up to 13, but most were under four and didn't quite play the game the way Abner Doubleday intended.

Kevan Hunter, 3-year-old son of Coach Billy Hunter, swung and missed five pitches and then ran somewhere in the vicinity of first base — carrying his bat.

There was even something for the Oriole bachelors. To pay for their carefree lives, John Orsino, Wally Bunker, Bob Savin and Frank Bertina were given jobs as umpires.

Too Much Money Is Ruining Golf Says Ben Hogan
By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—High finance on the pro tour has dulled the incentive of many golfers and turned them into parasites, Ben Hogan said today.

"It's not a matter of the big purses but the way the money is distributed," the four-time National Open winner said.

"A fellow doesn't have to work on his game any more. All he has to do is show up for a tournament. He can finish far down the list, pick up a pretty good paycheck and make a comfortable living on the efforts of others."

"The money distribution system is all wrong. The big money should go to the leaders, the fellows such as Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Ken Venturi who are out there always struggling to improve their game. The couldn't-care-less fellows should get little or nothing."

Hogan, now 52 and returning to the Oakland Hills scene where he won the third of his Opens 13 years ago, failed to specify a particular tournament, but he virtually drew a map of the $200,000 Carling World Championship, beginning here today.

The sport's richest event has a prize list scaled down from $35,000 for first and $17,000 for second to $10,000-and-over for 36 places. Each of the 155 players teeing off, 48 of them from 13 foreign nations, is assured $400.

All the name players of the world are entered here, with Nicklaus bidding to nail down his position as the year's leading money winner ($99,000-plus) and Palmer, No. 2, and British Open champion Tony Lema, No. 3, in a position to take over take over though a victory.

Venturi, the National Open champion, is playing so superbly and with such confidence he has been made the No. 1 favorite.

8th Inning Blues For Orioles

Cleveland Rally Again Jolts the League Leaders

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles will be lucky if they can get out of the Cleveland Indians' eighth inning with the American League pennant.

The Indians edged the first-place Orioles 3-2 Wednesday night, scoring two runs in the eighth inning for the victory. The loss, coupled with Chicago's 2-1, 12-inning triumph over Minnesota, sliced Baltimore's lead to one percentage point over the second-place White Sox.

The victory, the Indians' sixth straight, increased their season edge over Baltimore to 10-5, making them the only team to hold an edge over the league leaders. More specifically, though, the Indians have won five of the last six games with Baltimore in the eighth inning.

A five-run outburst in the eighth Tuesday night brought Cleveland a 5-3 decision. Wednesday night's game was tied 1-1 going into the eighth.

Slow-footed John Romano sent the tie-breaking run across with a two-out, two-strike bunt single, a surprise move he pulled on his own. Vic Davalillo followed with a run-scoring double.

A Rare Play

Explaining the rare squeeze bunt, Romano said: "I can't hit (relief pitcher Stu) Miller anyway, so I had to do something."

Baltimore Manager Hank Bauer, however, didn't have any explanation for the Indians' eighth-inning tactics.

Elsewhere in the AL, Washington blanked New York 2-0, Detroit defeated Boston 4-1 and Los Angeles knocked off Kansas City 5-2.

Norm Siebern slammed a homer for the Orioles in the eighth, but they couldn't do any more scoring. A walk and singles by Earl Robinson and Russ Snyder had given Baltimore a 1-1 tie in the sixth and set the stage for the eighth-inning rally.

JFK Rout Didn't Ruin Humphrey Four Years Ago

By ARTHUR EDSON
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—For Hubert Horatio Humphrey, the man who came back, this was sweet victory indeed. There he stood Wednesday night, waving, laughing, pointing happily to friends he recognized in the milling crowd below, as thousands cheered in this giant convention hall. Everything had gone right for Hubert Humphrey at last. Not only had President Johnson finally picked him as his vice presidential running mate, Johnson had made it all the lovelier by performing an unheard-of political chore, coming from Washington to nominate Humphrey in person. Watching Humphrey in all his glory, it seemed impossible that only four short years ago he looked to be washed up, fished.

Life's Labor Lost
But let's go back for a moment to that rainy night of May 10, 1960, in Charleston, W.Va. This was the windup of a rough, tough campaign. Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota were the two contestants, and they had each other with all that they had. No one who took part in or who watched that West Virginia Democratic presidential primary will ever forget it. All the odds were expected to favor Humphrey.

Protestant and Homey
He was a Protestant running against a Roman Catholic in Protestant country. He spoke the plain, homey language hill folks could understand. But the Kennedy resources and the Kennedy political knowledge and the combined energy of the restless Kennedy family changed what looked like certain defeat into spectacular victory.

"Nice of You"
Humphrey offered his congratulations, and Kennedy, looking as if he were a little embarrassed at so solid a knockout blow, said: "It was very nice of you to come over, Hubert." But Humphrey isn't one to sulk. Sen. Pierre Salinger, who as Kennedy's press secretary in West Virginia was on the other side of the primary fence, had only nice things to say about him Wednesday night as he seconded the nomination. Humphrey worked hard in the 1960 fall campaign, Salinger said, and contributed to Kennedy's victory. So here Humphrey was Wednesday night, so gay, so effervescent, so exuberant, lapping up the applause. And recalling what happened just four

Pros, Cons . . .

Cordts Realty Corp., was represented by Attorney James H. Fisher, of the law firm of Connolly & Connolly, who held that the recently modernized zoning ordinance was the result of study work, and findings by experts and should not be changed. Attorney Fisher, and others who spoke, argued that permitting a general manufacturing classification for the Hutton Company land would infringe on the rights of property holders along the bounds of the land, and they contended that there should be a "buffer zone" permitted between the industrial site and residential properties.

Company's View
Attorney Lloyd R. LeFever, representing the Hutton Company, emphasized that it had been in the brick manufacturing business on the site for more than 100 years. It has obtained its clay from its land in the area, and he saw no reason why it should be required to go to land it cannot use, if its clay supply is exhausted. Assuming that this would take some 50 years, a resident of the area suggested that the zoning change be sought at the end of that time.

Attorney John L. Larkin, representing the Rondout National Bank, was among those speaking in favor of the zoning change affecting signs. Others were: Anthony G. Saccoman, Broadway jeweler; Frank Ambrose, operator of a Broadway restaurant; Edward deGroff, insurance man, and Harvey Thompson, service station operator. They dealt most directly with the motel project now in the planning stage. It was indicated it is to be a $400,000 project, and will require a large sign.

Cites Other Cities
Modjeska, in discussing the sign proposal, said outdoor advertising was older than the Bible, it having been a means of attracting public attention in ancient times. If larger signs are permitted in other cities of the state, some of them near Kingston, they should be permitted here, he held. Signmen, he said, are under regulations, and must obtain permits, and they seek only to erect signs and billboards in commercial areas. Yallum said much money and many man hours were involved in giving the city a modern zoning ordinance. Large signs and billboards, he held, "will increase the accident incidence on every thoroughfare on which these attention-getters would be visible." Acceptance of the amendment, he said, would permit "Whole-sale debasement of the city," and a return to "the 1920 dark ages of zoning we have just eradicated."

years ago, it was easy to see why he loved it.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—Chrysler, picked by the auto union as the No. 1 strike target if bargaining fails, sank sharply today, but the stock market as a whole recovered irregularly.

Delaying the possible auto walkout from Aug. 31 to Sept. 9, however, bolstered other stocks and the list in general, giving Wall Street a reprieve from its biggest worry. Chrysler sank 7/8 to 55 1/2 on an opening block of 20,000 shares and at one time widened its loss past a point.

General Motors rebounded more than a point. Ford gained a fraction. American Motors and Studebaker traded about unchanged.

DuPont recovered three points of recent losses. General Dynamics and Dresser Industries were active and about a point higher. First-hour volume of only 780,000 shares, however, was the lightest in many sessions and reflected continued caution in Wall Street.

Steels and electrical equipments were mostly higher. Several groups were mixed.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

by ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Advisor and Analyst

How Cautious Teacher Can Invest $1,000

Q) "I have $1,000 to invest. I teach for a living and know money just isn't floating around. Would you advise me how to invest this sum? I read about letting your broker invest for you. If I don't know a broker, how do I secure the services of one?" W. O.

A) I'm quite aware that money isn't floating around for teachers to the extent that it should be in our affluent society. I cannot in this column recommend a specific broker to you. If you have an account in a bank ask one of the officers to recommend a good local man.

When he does so, do not ask the broker to invest for you. Give him an order to buy American Telephone stock, a sound and conservative investment. (This is on the assumption that you have a reserve in savings adequate for emergencies. If you do not, I would avoid stocks entirely until you have built such a reserve.) Q) "I would be grateful if you would tell me something about tax-exempt city and state bonds. What sort of return do they give? How is interest paid?" H. C.

A) Next to U. S. Government obligations, there are probably no securities as safe as city and state tax-exempts. Since their power to collect money from their citizens is virtually unlimited, it is almost unheard of for any city or state to go into default on its direct obligations. Municipals are normally in coupon form. You clip a coupon semi-annually, turn it into your bank and that's it.

Municipals come in all shapes and sizes. There are Commonwealths of Massachusetts 3 1/4's of 1982 selling to yield 3.05 per cent. There are San Diego, California, Water Authority 3 1/4's of 1989 selling to yield 3.35 per cent.

In my opinion, municipals are very attractive investments for people in the 30 per cent income bracket, and up.

Dog's Death Adds To Heartaches of Cleveland Child

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—David Peck is only 7 years old but he knows about tragedy. His small world has been shattered twice in eight months.

Last January David's older brother, Darryl, 8, died of leukemia. Last Saturday Peppy, David's 3-month-old puppy, was struck and killed by a car—or cars.

"Something should be done to get these drivers to slow down," the youngster told his mother. "I'm going to write a letter to The Plain Dealer."

This is the letter David printed neatly on lined paper to the morning newspaper.

"Dear editor: "My name is David Peck. "My puppy's name was Peppy."

"He was killed by two cars Saturday afternoon. My dog was the smartest dog on the street. "One of the cars was blue. One of the cars was a red Conair. The cars were going too fast and could not stop."

"Please ask the drivers to slow down on the streets where there are puppies and children."

Signed: David Peck

Peppy was shipped in July to David from his grandmother, Mrs. Claude DeMyers of Memphis, Tenn. David, a second-grader and one of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson G. Peck Jr., can have another dog if he wants one.

He hasn't asked for one so far, his mother said. He won't part with any of the toys that belonged to Peppy.

"It's hard to believe he's really dead," the bright-eyed youngster told his mother Wednesday.

The WIOD radio tower was blown over and crashed into Biscayne Bay.

Residents began boarding up early Wednesday after Cleo left the north coast of Cuba and began its march across the Florida Straits.

By sundown, downtown Miami streets were virtually deserted, following one of the most monstrous traffic jams in the city's history.

Key Biscayne, a low-lying residential island just off Miami, was ordered evacuated for fear of an eight-foot tide.

Johnson Tells Humphrey's Wife To Dress Him Up

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—It was 6:35 Wednesday night when the phone rang in Mrs. Hubert Humphrey's hotel room.

The White House was calling. "Hello, Muriel," said President Johnson. "You looked very pretty on TV this afternoon. . . ."

"We're going to nominate your boy tonight. . . . I want you to put on your best bib and tucker for him."

"Bless your heart, Mr. President!" exclaimed the wife of the Minnesota senator who was to be Johnson's running mate. "I'm going to put on my best bib and tucker for both of you!"

"We're taking good care of him for you," said the President before he called Humphrey to the phone.

Said Mrs. Humphrey to the senator: "If he pulls more of these, I'll have to be sure I have a chair under me!"

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — For Hubert Horatio Humphrey, the man who came back, this was sweet victory indeed.

There he stood Wednesday night, waving, laughing, pointing happily to friends he recognized in the milling crowd below, as thousands cheered in this giant convention hall.

Everything had gone right for Hubert Humphrey at last. Not only had President Johnson finally picked him as his vice-presidential running mate, Johnson had made it all the lovelier by performing an unheard-of political chore, coming from Washington to nominate Humphrey in person.

Watching Humphrey in all his glory, it seemed impossible that only four short years ago he looked to be washed up, finished.

Life's Labor Lost

But let's go back for a moment, to that rainy night of May 10, 1960, in Charleston, W.Va.

This was the windup of a rough, tough campaign. Sen. John F. Kennedy and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota were the two contestants, and they hit each other with all that they had. No one who took part in or who watched that West Virginia Democratic presidential primary will ever forget it.

All the odds were expected to favor Humphrey.

Protestant and Homey

He was a Protestant running against a Roman Catholic in Protestant country.

He spoke the plain, homey language hill folks could understand.

But the Kennedy resources and the Kennedy political knowledge and the combined energy of the restless Kennedy family changed what looked like certain defeat into spectacular victory.

"Nice of You"

Humphrey offered his congratulations, and Kennedy, looking as if he were a little embarrassed at so solid a knockout blow, said: "It was very nice of you to come over, Hubert."

But Humphrey isn't one to sulk.

Sen. Pierre Salinger, who as Kennedy's press secretary in West Virginia was on the other side of the primary fence, had only nice things to say about him Wednesday night as he seconded the nomination. Humphrey worked hard in the 1960 fall campaign, Salinger said, and contributed to Kennedy's victory.

So here Humphrey was Wednesday night, so gay, so effervescent, so exuberant, lapsing into the applause. And recalling what happened just four years ago, it was easy to see why he loved it.

Pros, Cons . . .

Cordts Realty Corp., was represented by Attorney James H. Fisher, of the law firm of Connelly & Connelly, who held that the recently modernized zoning ordinance was the result of study work, and findings by experts and should not be changed.

Attorney Fisher, and others who spoke, argued that permitting a general manufacturing classification for the Hutton Company land would infringe on the rights of property holders along the bounds of the land, and they contended that there should be a "buffer zone" permitted between the industrial site and residential properties.

Company's View

Attorney Lloyd R. LeFever, representing the Hutton Company, emphasized that it had been in the brick manufacturing business on the site for more than 100 years. It has obtained its clay from its land in the area, and he saw no reason why it should be required to go to land it cannot use, if its clay supply is exhausted. Assuming that this would take some 50 years, a resident of the area suggested that the zoning change be sought at the end of that time.

Attorney John L. Larkin, representing the Rondout National Bank, was among those speaking in favor of the zoning change affecting signs. Others were: Anthony G. Saccomani, Broadway jeweler; Frank Ambrose, operator of a Broadway restaurant; Edward deGroff, insurance man; and Harvey Thompson, service station operator.

They dealt most directly with the motel project now in the planning stage. It was indicated it is to be a $400,000 project, and will require a large sign.

Cites Other Cities

Modjeska, in discussing the sign proposal, said outdoor advertising was older than the Bible, it having been a means of attracting public attention in ancient times. If larger signs are permitted in other cities of the state, some of them near Kingston, they should be permitted here, he held.

Signmen, he said, are under regulations, and must obtain permits, and they seek only to erect signs and billboards in commercial areas.

Yallum said much money and many man hours were involved in giving the city a modern zoning ordinance. Large signs and billboards, he held, "will increase the accident incidence on every thoroughfare on which these attention-getters would be visible."

Acceptance of the amendment, he said, would permit "Wholesale debasement of the city," and a return to "the 1920 dark ages of zoning we have just eradicated."

Fast-growing eucalyptus seedlings are planted on dunes in the Sahara Desert, then petroleum is sprayed around them to stabilize the sand. The maturing trees anchor the dunes permanently and yield timber, resins and oils.

WIN VOLTS TOURNEY—Olive Bridge Fire Company was the grand trophy winner of the third annual fireman's tournament of Olive Bridge Department held recently at West Shokan. They were tied with Boiceville Company and won after three tie-breaking contests. The winning team includes (l-r) Alfred Rose, Frank Prochaska, Everett Cook, Gregory O'Connor and Andreas Farstad. Also on the team are Marion Oakley, Frank Miller and Walter Fenty. Boiceville placed first in the equipment, booster fog and portable pump competitions. Olive Bridge was second in all five contests. Ashokan Company was first in the motor draft race and the ladder race. A trophy was awarded to all first place teams. Club Scouts who won the poster contest were David Adsit and John Kelder.

Kennedy Is Willing To Debate Keating

NEW YORK (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, candidate for the U. S. Senate Democratic nomination from New York, said today he would be willing and eager to debate incumbent Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating.

In an interview from Atlantic City on WNEW radio, Kennedy said he would like to debate the question of his residency and charges that he's using the Empire State as a springboard to national power.

TARRYTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Two masked men who invaded the bedroom of a Hudson River mansion and tied up the owner and his wife escaped with jewelry valued at $300,000, police report.

The victims of the pre-dawn robbery Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bronfman, who were asleep when the men, one carrying a gun, woke them by shining flashlights in their faces.

Bronfman is president of Distillers Corp.-Seagrams, Ltd., a multi-millionaire and a philanthropist. His principal residence is in Montreal.

Police said entry was through a study window that had been jimmied open.

Police Chief Ernest M. Kindgren said the loot was earrings, bracelets, rings and brooches valued at about $300,000.

Dog's Death Adds To Heartaches of Cleveland Child

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — David Peck is only 7 years old but he knows about tragedy. His small world has been shattered twice in eight months.

Last January David's older brother, Darryl, 8, died of leukemia. Last Saturday Peppy, David's 3-month-old puppy, was struck and killed by a car — or cars.

"Something should be done to get these drivers to slow down," the youngster told his mother. "I'm going to write a letter to The Plain Dealer."

This is the letter David printed neatly on lined paper to the morning newspaper.

"Dear editor: 'My name is David Peck. 'My puppy's name was Peppy. 'He was killed by two cars Saturday afternoon. My dog was the smartest dog on the street. 'One of the cars was blue. One of the cars was a red convert. The cars were going too fast and could not stop. 'Please ask the drivers to slow down on the streets where there are puppies and children. Signed: David Peck

Peppy was shipped in July to David from his grandmother, Mrs. Claude DeMyers of Memphis, Tenn. David, a second-grader and one of four children of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson G. Peck Jr., can have another dog if he wants one.

He hasn't asked for one so far, his mother said. He won't part with any of the toys that belonged to Peppy.

"It's hard to believe he's really dead," the bright-eyed youngster told his mother Wednesday.

Johnson Tells Humphrey's Wife To Dress Him Up

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — It was 6:35 Wednesday night when the phone rang in Mrs. Hubert Humphrey's hotel room.

The White House was calling. "Hello, Muriel," said President Johnson. "You looked very pretty on TV this afternoon. . . We're going to nominate you for tonight. . . I want you to put on your best bib and tucker for him."

"Bless your heart, Mr. President!" exclaimed the wife of the Minnesota senator who was to be Johnson's running mate. "I'm going to put on my best bib and tucker for both of you!"

"We're taking good care of him for you," said the President before he called Humphrey to the phone.

Said Mrs. Humphrey to the senator: "If he pulls more of these, I'll have to be sure I have a chair under me!"

Residents began boarding up early Wednesday after Cleo left the north coast of Cuba and began its march across the Florida Straits.

By sundown, downtown Miami streets were virtually deserted, following one of the most monstrous traffic jams in the city's history.

Key Biscayne, a low-lying residential island just off Miami, was ordered evacuated for fear of an eight-foot tide.

Stratton Trading Anti-Bobby Drive For Unity Plea

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton probably will drop his battle against Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy after bringing it up at the state Democratic convention next Tuesday informed sources indicate.

They evidently believe that, contrary to much talk from the Stratton camp about a court fight to invalidate Kennedy's nomination as U.S. senator on grounds of non-residence, the Amsterdam congressman will join in a demonstration of unity for Kennedy at the convention's close.

Stratton has been seeking the nomination. Representing a heavily Republican constituency, much of it in small towns and rural areas, Stratton must take pains to show that he is not a captive of the state Democratic organization, which is controlled by big-city forces.

Yet, the sources say, he must not be too harsh in his criticisms of the state organization, for fear that campaign funds and patronage might be cut down.

His "carpetbagger" charges against the Massachusetts-born Kennedy and frequent criticisms of the Democratic "bosses" have delighted his Republican voters, to whom he will be appealing shortly for re-election support, observers say.

Thus, to keep this fine balance between GOP votes and Democratic organization support, they believe, Stratton will drop his anti-Kennedy campaign.

Goldwater Thinks Things to Change For Republicans

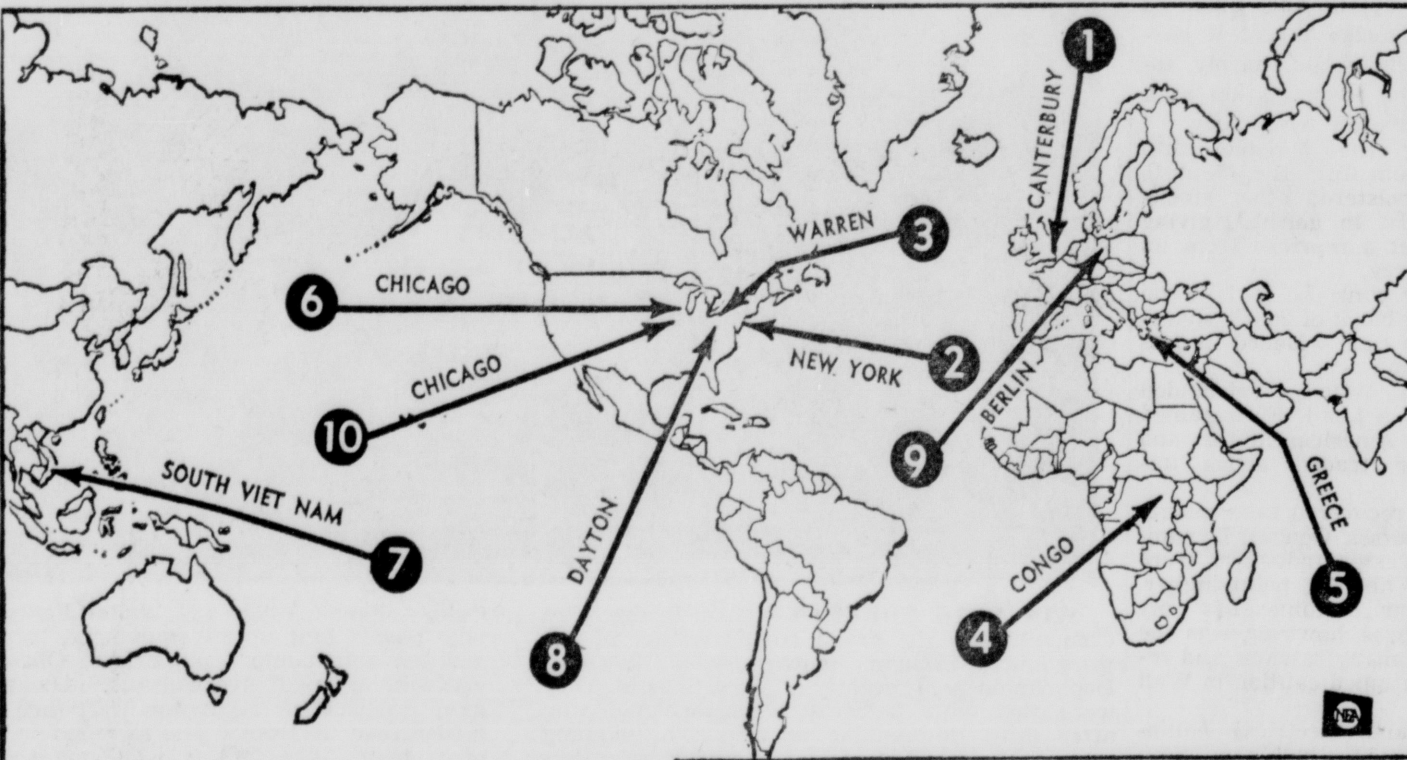

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater says his private polls show President Johnson well ahead in their race for the White House—but he adds there are "signs of improvement" for the Republican cause.

Goldwater told a news conference aboard a yacht off Catalina Island "the polls we see are 63-29, something like that. . . . I wouldn't call that good, but I don't think the polls are too dependable any more."

"We have done some researching in a way that other polls haven't," he added. "We come up with pretty much the same results but we also see some very good signs of improvement."

Bill Is Signed On Firms Use of Nuclear Reactors

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson signed a bill Wednesday permitting private firms to own fuel for nuclear reactors.

He described it as a further step toward harnessing the full power of the atom.

Johnson, with the Atomic Energy Commission and other dignitaries looking on, said it no longer was practical to require full government ownership of all nuclear fuels.

In the past, private industry has had to rent nuclear materials from the government. The new law removes this requirement for fuels used in private power plants.

Johnson said great progress had been made in the development of power in recent years and it was "no longer appropriate" for the government to control all nuclear materials.

He said the law still provided proper protection for the people of the United States, but also met "the needs of modern times."

The AEC had asked for the new law on behalf of the Johnson administration. It received bipartisan support in both houses of Congress.

Man Driving Keating Is a Goldwater Fan

COBLESKILL, N.Y. (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating appeared to be strongly backing the Goldwater-Miller presidential ticket during his tour of the Schoharie County Fair here Wednesday, but the idea apparently was his "chauffeur's."

Dist. Atty. Robert H. Ecker of Schoharie County drove Keating to and from the fairgrounds, and Ecker's automobile was plastered with Goldwater stickers.

Ecker said, "I'm for Goldwater and . . . also like Keating."

Keating, Rochester Republican seeking re-election, has refused to support the national ticket.

Miller Back Taking Potshots at Bobby

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Rep. William E. Miller, with a three-day physical checkup behind him, moved back onto the campaign firing line with potshots at Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The Republican nominee for vice president checked out of Buffalo General Hospital Wednesday and declared that Kennedy was trying to use New York State as a "stepping stone" to higher political office.

That was his assessment of Kennedy's declaration for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator from New York. The brother of the late President tossed his hat into the New York State ring Tuesday, after New York Democratic leaders paved the way for his nomination next week.

Feeling Fine

"I feel fine," Miller declared, emerging from the pre-campaign checkup.

And doctors said the 50-year-old former GOP national chairman has passed his examination with flying colors.

Miller planned to spend the day at his summer home at Olcott, N.Y., on Lake Ontario, before hitting the campaign trail tomorrow. He is scheduled to speak Friday at Olean, N.Y., Bradford, Pa., and at the Chautauque Institution in Southwestern New York State.

These engagements precede the formal kickoff of his campaign on Sept. 5 at Lockport. Allan W. Van Demark, the Niagara County GOP chairman, who is planning the kickoff, said neither Senators Kenneth B. Keating nor Jacob K. Javits had been invited to the opening.

VanDemark noted that the two Republican senators had refused to declare their support for the national GOP ticket and said that "people like Keating and Javits are not wanted."

Keating, passing through Albany on a re-election campaign swing, was informed of the remark and responded with a shrug. "I never go places where I'm not wanted," he said.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who says he is supporting the ticket but will not discuss his campaign plans, previously turned down an invitation to the rally. He said he planned to spend the Labor Day weekend in Maine with his family.

Stratton Trading Anti-Bobby Drive For Unity Plea

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton probably will drop his battle against Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy after bringing it up at the state Democratic convention next Tuesday informed sources indicate.

They evidently believe that, contrary to much talk from the Stratton camp about a court fight to invalidate Kennedy's nomination as U.S. senator on grounds of non-residence, the Amsterdam congressman will join in a demonstration of unity for Kennedy at the convention's close.

Stratton has been seeking the nomination.

Representing a heavily Republican constituency, much of it in small towns and rural areas, Stratton must take pains to show that he is not a captive of the state Democratic organization, which is controlled by big-city forces.

Yet, the sources say, he must not be too harsh in his criticisms of the state organization, for fear that campaign funds and patronage might be cut down. His "carpetbagger" charges against the Massachusetts-born Kennedy and frequent criticisms of the Democratic "bosses" have delighted his Republican voters, to whom he will be appealing shortly for re-election support, observers say.

Thus, to keep this fine balance between GOP votes and Democratic organization support, they believe, Stratton will drop his anti-Kennedy campaign.

Goldwater Thinks Things to Change For Republicans

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater says his private polls show President Johnson well ahead in their race for the White House—but he adds there are "signs of improvement" for the Republican cause. Goldwater told a news conference aboard a yacht off Catalina Island "the polls we see are 63-29, something like that. I wouldn't call that good, but I don't think the polls are too dependable any more."

"We have done some research in a way that other polls haven't," he added. "We come up with pretty much the same results but we also see some very good signs of improvement."

Believe Stratton To Join Unity Move for Kennedy

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton probably will drop his battle against Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy after bringing it up at the State Democratic Convention Tuesday, sources close to Stratton indicate.

They evidently believe that, contrary to much talk from the Stratton camp about a court fight to invalidate Kennedy's nomination as U.S. senator on grounds of non-residence, the Amsterdam, N.Y., congressman will join in a demonstration of unity for Kennedy at the convention's close.

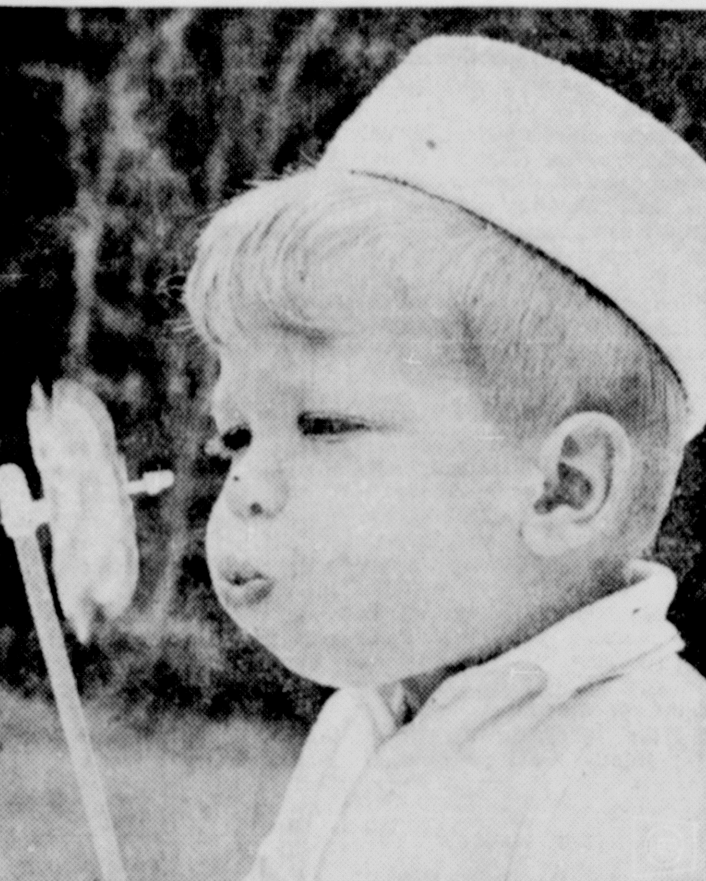

Stratton has been seeking the nomination, but the odds appear to be against him.

Miller Back Taking Potshots at Bobby

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Rep. William E. Miller, with a three-day physical checkup behind him, moved back onto the campaign firing line with potshots at Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The Republican nominee for vice president checked out of Buffalo General Hospital Wednesday and declared that Kennedy was trying to use New York State as a "stepping stone" to higher political office.

That was his assessment of Kennedy's declaration for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator from New York. The brother of the late President tossed his hat into the New York Senate ring Tuesday, after New York Democratic leaders paved the way for his nomination next week.

Feeling Fine

"I feel fine," Miller declared, emerging from the pre-campaign checkup.

And doctors said the 50-year-old former GOP national chairman has passed his examination with flying colors.

Miller planned to spend the day at his summer home at Olcott, N.Y., on Lake Ontario, before hitting the campaign trail tomorrow. He is scheduled to speak Friday at Olean, N.Y., Bradford, Pa., and at the Chautauque Institution in Southwestern New York State.

These engagements precede the formal kickoff of his campaign on Sept. 5 at Lockport. Allan W. Van DeMark, the Niagara County GOP chairman, who is planning the kickoff, said neither Senators Kennedy B. Keating nor Jacob K. Javits had been invited to the opening. VanDeMark noted that the two Republican senators had refused to declare their support for the national GOP ticket and said that "people like Keating and Javits are not wanted."

Keating, passing through Albany on a re-election campaign swing, was informed of the remark and responded with a shrug. "I never go places where I'm not wanted," he said.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who says he is supporting the ticket but will not discuss his campaign plans, previously turned down an invitation to the rally. He said he planned to spend the Labor Day weekend in Maine with his family.

Man Driving Keating Is a Goldwater Fan

COBLESKILL, N.Y. (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating appeared to be strongly backing the Goldwater-Miller presidential ticket during his tour of the Schoharie County Fair here Wednesday, but the idea apparently was his "chauffeur's."

Dist. Atty. Robert H. Ecker of Schoharie County drove Keating to and from the fairgrounds, and Ecker's automobile was plastered with Goldwater stickers.

Ecker said, "I'm for Goldwater and... also like Keating."

Keating, Rochester Republican seeking re-election, has refused to support the national ticket.
